HOME CONTENTS LOST IN BLAZE

Mrs. Lula Doersom, 75, whose home on Bonaventure rd. was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning, lost all she possessed in the blaze, including $60 in cash.

No estimate of damage was available this morning, but her son, Charles F. Doersom, with whom she had been residing since the fire, said the amount would "run into several thousand dollars."

All of her clothing, furnishings and furniture burned when the house was consumed. She had resided at her home about a mile east of here since 1916.

Her Burns Not Serious

While she suffered burns about the hands in attempting to beat out the flames when an oil stove exploded in the kitchen of her home about 10:45 Wednesday morning, the burns were not serious, the son said.

When she ran from the house for help, flames were beginning to ignite her dress, but the flames quickly died, neighbors said.

Also burned in the fire was a social security check received Tuesday, but the son said he believed that amount could be recovered.

The Doersom house stood within eight feet of another dwelling and firemen wetted down its side to prevent its catching fire. Also nearby were other buildings, a wood pile and a shed which were threatened by the blaze, but water kept the fire from spreading. Six trucks were kept operating constantly to haul water in booster tanks from a stream nearby in fighting the fire.

Florida Woman Has Six Ribs Broken

Damage was estimated at $400 in the auto accident Wednesday noon in which Mrs. Agnes Clark, 84, of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Canada, was seriously injured.

The crash occurred two miles north of here on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd. State police said Mrs. Clark's husband, Rice O. Clark, 75, was driving south when he car skidded on the slippery highway, turned around, headed north and struck a utility pole. The couple were enroute from their home in Canada to their Florida home.

Mrs. Clark suffered fractures of six ribs and a punctured lung as a result of the accident.

FRATERNITIES' XMAS CONTEST THIS WEEKEND

The northern end of the borough will be mecca for hundreds of sightseers Friday night as the fraternities hold their annual Christmas decorations contest.

Construction of the decorations, displays and designs was underway today.

Each year the various fraternities seek to outdo each other in the lavishness and originality of the displays which turn the northern end of the town into a winter wonderland for a few days.

Judging will be by a committee of faculty members and merchants who are scheduled to make their tour of the fraternities Friday night.

Houseparty Weekend

The winners of the decoration contest will be announced and trophies awarded at a jazz concert at the college gymnasium Saturday afternoon.

The decorations contest is held in connection with the annual Houseparty Weekend at the college.

Joe Rinaldi and his orchestra will feature jazz and Dixie Land music at the concert in the college gymnasium from 2 to 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Rinaldi and his orchestra have been featured at the "Bayou" and the "Flame" in Washington, D. C., and at Princeton, Harvard and Lehigh Universities.

The jazz concert will be sponsored by the Interfraternity Council. Dick Simpson of Phi Gamma Delta is heading the committee in charge assisted by Ralph Crattlers of Tau Kappa Epsilon and Mar Elliott of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Tickets will be available at the gymnasium for $2 a couple, $1 for an individual.

PLOWS KEEP ROADS OPEN

With the mountains in the north and west of the county and the eastern borders of the county getting the heaviest part of Wednesday's snowfall, State Highway department officials said all roads were kept open throughout the night despite some light drifting.

Cinder crews had covered hills, intersections, bridges and curves and highways generally were reported "in good shape" although most main roads were covered with hardpacked snow and ice. Heavy scrapers will start removal of that coating as soon as traffic and rising temperatures "loosen it up a little."

Snow plows operated all night and at noon today some remained in operation.

Gettysburg Times weather station records show Wednesday's 4 1/2 inches of snow to be the heaviest fall here in any December since 1951 when the month received a total of 18 1/2 inches.

In addition to bringing the first measurable snow of the season, Wednesday went into the records as the coldest day of the fall and the first day this season in which the temperatures have failed to rise above 32 degrees. Wednesday night's low was a chilly 10 below freezing. Colder temperatures may be recorded here tonight.

The Gettysburg post office reported some delays in mails today with some of the trucks serving the local post office running behind their usual schedule because of the slippery roads.

No schools in the area were reported closed today.

More Candidates Report Expenses

Wilbur L. Plank, Springs Ave., and William G. Weaver, Baltimore St., the opposing candidates for burgess of Gettysburg, spent less than $150 each in their campaigns, according to their expense accounts filed today with the county election board.

Others who filed "less than $150" forms were Edward F. Hawk, Littlestown, for tax collector; Donald P. Rhodes, Straban Twp., for tax collector; Dale G. Crum, Bendersville, for tax collector, and William J. Miller, New Oxford, for constable. Today is the last day for filing expense accounts with the county election board.

State Digs Its Way Out Of 10 Inches Of Snow; Lawler Stranded In Turnpike Drift

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pennsylvania today faced the massive chore of digging out from under a blanket of snow that ranged up to the traffic-strangling 10 inches that struck the southeastern corner of the state.

It was a fullscale winter storm, one of the earliest ever, that pounded the state with its fury for a 24-hour period starting at dusk Tuesday.

As a bright sun and clear skies today replaced the wind-driven snow and heavy overcast of yesterday, snow plows and shovels were brought into emergency play to restore transportation facilities.

The effect of the storm was intensified by the bitter cold. A bone-chilling one below zero was reported at Erockville, Pa. At Bradford a low of 5 above was recorded while in most of the eastern half of the state it was in the low 20s.

The sub-freezing temperatures turned yesterday's underlayer of slush to solid ice with a thick coating of snow on top—making driving and even walking things to be avoided if at all possible. And the wind that raged well into last night churned the snow across many roads, drifting them shut.

The state's largest city, Philadelphia, received its full measure of the storm's offerings with six inches of snow and some streets in the northeastern section of the city still impassable today.

Lawler Stranded

Drifting snow also forced the closing of the eastern third of Pennsylvania's toll road and the Northeastern Extension, a rare occurrence. And the Turnpike Commission's temporary chairman, Joseph J. Lawler, was stranded in a turnpike snowdrift near Reading while on his way to Albany N. Y., to deliver a talk on "snow removal."

The storm brought motorists and commuters headaches by the score—but for the state's children it was a blessing in white disguise. Sleds came out of the closet for their first outing of the season as a number of suburban and rural schools closed.

Pennsylvania was in the heart of the storm that moved in from Ohio and stubbornly refused to move quickly along to the Atlantic Coast as originally predicted.

Thousands Are Late

The western third of the state was spared the full fury of the minor blizzard. It stopped snowing in Pittsburgh in late afternoon while by sharp contrast wind-propelled squalls continued in eastern Pennsylvania until 9 p.m.

Thousands of school children and their elders were hours late getting home from school and office. Scores were forced to walk, at least part of the way, as transportation lines succumbed to the snow.

Police vehicles and tow trucks brought stranded storm victims home in some instances.

NEW PHYSICIAN COMING IN FEB.

Dr. D. L. Radsma, native of the Dutch East Indies who was educated in Holland, will come here in February as the successor to Dr. George N. Ewing, who will leave Gettysburg December 22 for Sayre, Pa., where he will take a three-year residency in orthopedic surgery.

Dr. Radsma will occupy Dr. Ewing's office at 111 Baltimore St. and will reside in the present home of the Ewings at 568 Hillcrest Place.

The Ewings will move December 27 to Sayre where Dr. Ewing will prepare to specialize in orthopedic surgery. The Ewings have been in Gettysburg about two years.

Dr. Radsma attended school in Amsterdam and was graduated from the University of Amsterdam in 1949. After military service, he went to Indonesia in 1952 for the Royal Dutch Shell Company as a doctor. In 1956, he came to the United States and has been in Pittsburgh for the last year where he took his internship as a requirement for his Pennsylvania license and served a residency during part of that time at the Shady Side Hospital.

100 Killed In Train Crash In London Fog; Third Train Misses Falling On Wreckage

LONDON (AP) — Rescue workers today said approximately 100 persons died in the rush-hour crash of two trains taking commuters and Christmas shoppers to their homes in thick fog last night.

Salvage crews, moving through a nightmare scene of fog and twisted metal, brought out 65 bodies. They said more than 30 other bodies still were trapped in the mangled coaches.

Police said more than 200 others were injured, including 110 seriously hurt. Determination of the final toll of dead and injured may take several days.

Horrible as the wreck was, it just missed being even worse, for a third train almost was involved. An 11-coach steam train drove into the rear of a 10-coach electric train halted near St. John's Station. The impact shot cars into the air and brought down part of an overhead viaduct which carried another electric rail line.

An eight-coach train on the overhead line stopped with the locomotive's front wheels overhanging the death scene. "We've got to shore up the viaduct and

Expect Eisenhowers Here This Afternoon

President and Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower are expected to arrive at their Gettysburg farm some time this afternoon to spend a long weekend. The departure time from the White House was not announced at press time but it was believed the First Family would be here about the middle of the afternoon.

It has not been officially announced whether the President's physicians will allow him to fly to Paris for the NATO sessions this month. However, many are of the belief that the President has recovered sufficiently from his recent mild stroke to make the trip and preside at the summit conferences.

Blame Mouse For Heating Plant Blast

A mouse was blamed today for explosion in the heating plant at the National Park utility building along the Taneytown Rd. early Tuesday morning that caused several hundred dollars damage to the plant and building.

Park Service workmen reporting Tuesday morning found doors blown off the oil heater and several windows in the brick building knocked out by the concussion of a blast that had occurred some time earlier in the heating unit.

Repairs from Climate Control Company, S. Washington St., called to repair the damage and put the furnace back in operation, found part of the body of a mouse obstructing the flow of oil from the nozzle that sprays oil into the firebox.

Mystery Unsolved

The workmen said that the obstruction deflected the flow of oil into the burner, resulting in a build-up of oil in the combustion chamber. When enough air got into the chamber to support combustion, the blast occurred that wrecked the draft control, knocked doors off the furnace and caused other damage that will cost several hundred dollars to repair, workmen said.

The mystery of how the mouse got into the firebox remained unsolved. Workmen said it might have gotten in through a draft door in the lower part of the furnace—possibly attracted by the warmth of the furnace while the burner was idle. Then when the burner was started next by automatic controls the mouse was cremated and part of its body blacked the nozzle.

Or maybe, they said, it was just a case of curiosity killing the mouse, instead of the cat, this time.

TO GIVE CHRISTIE PLAY ON CAMPUS

Gettysburg College students will present the play, "Witness For the Prosecution," by Agatha Christie, Thursday and Friday evenings, December 12 and 13, in Brua Hall, it was announced today.

YORK SPRINGS BYPASS WILL OPEN ON DEC. 12

York Springs' more than $1,000,000 bypass will be opened to the public December 12, Clyde A. Garber, county highway superintendent, said today.

Garber said he had been informed by the state Highway Department officials Wednesday that the official opening of the four-lane bypass will take place at 3:30 p.m. December 12.

By that time the finishing touches, such as installation of signs and guard rails, will be completed and motorists will be able to use the new road which will take them past York Springs without the danger of the intersection which has claimed a number of lives in accidents over many years and a heavy toll in injuries and property damage.

Route 94 Bridged

The four-lane divided highway was constructed by Hempt Brothers, of Camp Hill, whose bid of $1,230,281 was accepted. However that million dollar cost was only part of the expense. Because the new road passed through farms and homes, damages to property were extensive.

The 3.36 miles of highway include two lanes of concrete road on each side of a dividing strip. Also constructed was a large bridge to carry the new Route 15 over the Hanover-Carlisle Rd.

Clearview entrances into the highway, from the three-span bridge, permit cars to move from Route 94 to 15 and vice versa.

The road begins about 7,500 feet south of York Springs, swings about 1,500 feet east of the present route and rejoins the present route about 5,000 feet north of York Springs.

Austrian Paintings Will Be Displayed

One hundred and fifty original oil paintings by contemporary Austrian artists will be on exhibit in the basement of Christ Chapel on the campus Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The exhibit will be open Saturday from 2 to 7:30 p.m., Sunday from 1 to 8 p.m., Monday and Tuesday during day and to 8 p.m.

The exhibit is sponsored by Economic Alliance of Fine Arts Artists of Vienna. Otto Schwerer, himself an artist and in charge of the exhibit, said: "It is the intention of the exhibition to afford opportunity to people in small towns and cities, where there are no museums or galleries, for viewing these works."

The prize painting of the display is one by Andrew Patzel of Vienna, considered in some art circles to be one of the best portrait-painters since Rembrandt.

The public is invited to the exhibit. There will not be an admission charge. The exhibit is now at Senior High School, Chambersburg.

Church Will Hold Social On Sunday

A congregational Advent social will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield. Families of the congregation are asked to bring gifts such as canned foods, shawls, aprons, etc., to be distributed to the congregation's sick and shut-ins.

Immediately following a brief worship service, the young people will work on birthday calendars for the congregation's older members. A program of skits, poetry and song, combining both the humorous and the serious aspects of "preparing for Christmas," is planned. Refreshments will be served.

The social is being sponsored by the Dorcas Guild as an expression of "congregational fellowship, and as a channeling of congregational concern for sick and shut-in members."

Wimbert B. Neely Rites Held Today

TRUCKLOAD OF TURKEY UPSETS

An upset truck delayed delivery of 275 turkeys to the Winter Gardens in New Oxford Wednesday morning.

John Shultz, New Oxford, had backed his truck into the Paul Osborn turkey farm, Aspers R. D., and 275 turkeys, weighing 30 pounds apiece, in 124 coops, were loaded onto the truck.

Shultz started driving away and the truck skidded on the snow swerved and upset in a field. Shultz received a bruised arm, three of the coops were destroyed. None of the turkeys however was injured.

The coops were removed from the truck and a tractor pulled the truck onto its wheels again and dragged it through the snow to where the coops had been stored. It was reloaded, pulled to the highway by the tractor and Shultz continued on to Winter Gardens, delayed only about two hours by the accident. Damage to the truck was said to be negligible.

Ask Court To Have Verdict Reversed

HARRISBURG (AP) — Oral argument was resumed in Dauphin County Court today seeking the reversal of guilty verdicts against five men convicted of conspiring to defraud the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Atty. Earl V. Compton, representing Charles W. Stickler Jr., in arguing for a new trial, told the court that Judge Homer L. Kreider "permitted the jury to use conjecture rather than facts in deciding the case."

Stickler is president of Manu Mine Research and Development Co., Reading, which held a contract for work on the Northeastern Extension of the turnpike. The contract resulted in a 1 1/2 million dollar conspiracy to defraud the commission, the Commonwealth says.

BULLETS FAIL TO REACH SITE FOR CAGE GAME

Virtually impossible traveling conditions brought on Wednesday's heavy storm prevented the Gettysburg College basketball team from opening its season against Villanova at the Palestra in Philadelphia.

The squad left by bus shortly after 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and ran into its first serious trouble a short distance on this side of the Valley Forge exit of the Turnpike. After dining at Bowmansville the squad left there at 4:45 and at 6:20 was still half a mile from the exit. At 7:30 the bus finally reached the Expressway where it required three hours and 40 minutes to cover 11 miles to West Philadelphia. The group never reached the Palestra, phoning from West Philadelphia to report their predicament. The bus load of weary travelers finally reached home at 4:30 this morning. It is unlikely the game will be re-scheduled.

The Bullets will start preparing today for their new opener with Hofstra at Hempstead, Long Island, Saturday afternoon.

Coach Howard Shoemaker's freshmen will also inaugurate their season by meeting the Hofstra yearlings in the preliminary at 1 p.m.

GAME CANCELED

The New Oxford-Susquehanna High School basketball game, scheduled to be played Wednesday evening at Susquehanna was canceled because of traveling conditions. It will not be re-scheduled. New Oxford will play at Red Lion Friday evening.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The current wintry weather may, in the opinion of many, be strictly for the birds. One thing's for sure — it's not for the pigs.

A truckload of hogs bound from Chicago to Hatfield, Pa., was stranded yesterday for 6½ hours on the Skippack Pike in nearby Whitemarsh Twp. when their truck skidded off the road into a ditch during the heavy snow storm.

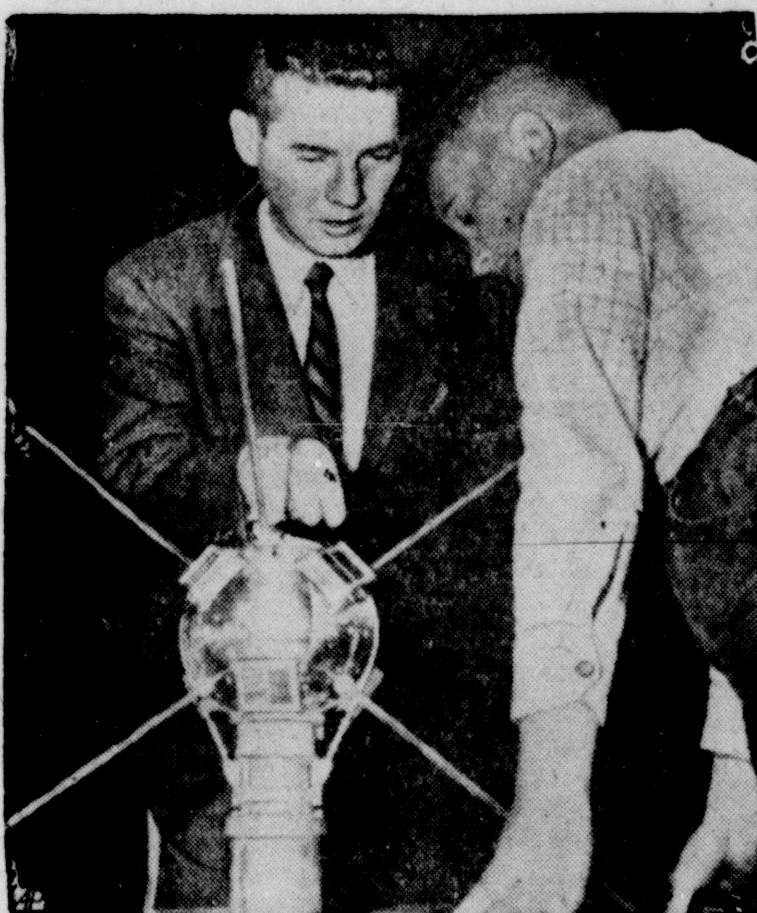

The driver, Gerald L. Hilkert, 35, Watsonstown, Pa., finally managed to put chains on the big vehicle and continue.

RUSSIA SCORES ANOTHER '1ST'

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia scored another first today, launching the first atomic-powered surface ship.

The 16,000-ton icebreaker Lenin slid down the ways in Leningrad, Moscow radio announced. Shipyard workers had originally hoped to launch it at the time of celebrations Nov. 7 of the Bolshevik Revolution's 40th anniversary.

The broadcast said the ship will be capable of breaking through ice over six feet thick, will use only a "few grams of its atomic fuel" every 24 hours and will be able to remain at sea for "several months."

The Soviet Union needs giant ice breakers to work along its frozen north coast.

The first U.S.-atomic-powered surface ship, the 21,000-ton Merchantman Savannah, is scheduled to be completed in 1960. The U.S. Navy has been operating atomic-powered submarines for several years.

Stricken Vessel May Reach Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP) — Chances for saving the stricken Greek freighter Margarita Chandra brightened today when a rescue ship messaged that the ship might be able to reach Honolulu under its own power.

The message, set by the SS President Monroe, indicated the weather was improving in the area of the storm-tossed ship as Hurricane Nina swept by. It said nothing about the freighter's mechanical trouble, which is believed to have put the ship out of control.

The Navy ammunition ship Rader also was reported yesterday for the freighter.

Indonesia Will Evacuate Thousands Dutch Citizens

By JAMES WILDE
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesians intend to evacuate thousands of Dutch citizens still living in this former Netherlands colony, Justice Minister Gustaaf

Manekgom said today. His statement was made as the government announced it is taking over all the big Dutch businesses occupied by their employees.

The Dutch government was asked to close seven consulates throughout the sprawling island republic which won its independence from the Netherlands in 1949. Only the consulate in Jakarta would remain open.

Indonesia is pressing the Netherlands for surrender of West New Guinea, an area which the Dutch did not turn over when this country became independent. The latest Indonesian actions were part of this pressure campaign.

46,000 Dutch Citizens

There are 46,000 Dutch citizens in Indonesia. Dutchmen own and operate the country's biggest and most strategic business firms.

Manekgom said the government wants to evacuate all but skilled labor if possible, but even those in this class would not be prevented from leaving.

A government spokesman refused to comment on whether the government takeover of Dutch firms amounted to nationalization, or how many were involved.

Well-informed sources said it was not nationalization, but a face-saving move to solve a tricky situation. These sources predicted the Dutch would be back in control of their businesses before many days.

Controlled By Council

The Cabinet decree taking over the firms said they would be controlled by a council of management under government supervision.

Strikes against the Dutch firms got out of hand when Communist-controlled unions began occupying the premises.

The KPM Shipping Lines and three big Dutch trading companies were seized by the workers Tuesday and Wednesday. Three big Dutch banks were threatened with seizure.

Jakarta's biggest hotel, Des Indes, was taken over by its 600 employees today. The Dutch manager and the Dutch bookkeeper were being held by the workers, members of the Communist-run labor federation, Sosis.

The request for the closure of all Dutch consulates except the one in Jakarta affected seven offices. But a Foreign Ministry spokesman said it was "not a cancellation of diplomatic relations."

The closure will put an end to military, press and cultural services of the Dutch mission to Jakarta, but the economic and political sections would remain open.

SEEK MAN WHO ROBBED, KILLED DURING STORM

VENTNOR, N. J. (AP) — Police pressed their search today for a killer or killers who fled under cover of a blinding snow storm last night after robbing a liquor store and shooting its owner to death.

The victim was Harry Neff, 59, of 202 Seaside Ave., Atlantic City. His body was found in the open doorway of a walk-in ice box in the rear of his store at 4825 Atlantic Ave. There were six gunshot wounds in his chest, abdomen, arms and back.

Get $115 In Bills

Police Chief Maurice Mower said about $115 in bills had been taken from the store's cash register. Neff had $50 in cash on his person. Another $10 in change in the register was left untouched.

Neff's wife said he always kept $115 in the register.

Mrs. Neff, who said her husband usually closed the store at 10 p.m., became alarmed when no one answered two telephone calls she made to the store and notified police.

Mower said Neff was apparently killed sometime between 6 and 8 p.m.

Tenants in an apartment above the store reported hearing screams and shots sometime during that period but did not notify police, Mower said.

MARKET IS HIGHER

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was higher in early trading today but gains in leading issues were limited to less than a point. There were a few small losses.

After opening rather active, the market quickly turned slow and remained that way.

Aircraft-missiles again were in demand.

Large Audience Sees Operetta:
Students of the Gettysburg High School music department presented "In Old St. Louis," an operetta in three acts, before an audience that nearly filled the high school auditorium Friday night.

Robert Hand as "Captain George Rogers Clark" and Betty Bower in the role of "Donna Deliza," daughter of a wealthy French fur trader, were well received in the leading characterizations.

A cast of more than 100 persons including choruses of 70 voices produced the operetta under the direction of Miss Dorothy Brindle, director of music in the Gettysburg public schools. Miss Ruth McIlhenny assisted with the dramatics; Edwin S. Longenecker with the orchestra; the Misses Anna Mumper, Ruth Spangler and Dorothy Brindle with the costumes and Miss Relda Green with the dances. Sarah Spangler was the accompanist.

Gulden-Orner Nuptials Held:
Miss Helen Amelia Orner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Orner, Biglerville R. 2, and Ivan K. Gulden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther A. Gulden, Biglerville, were united in marriage Friday afternoon in the chapel of Mercersburg Academy.

Looking Around: Basketball promises to be faster than ever this season when the new jump rule will be in effect. This season the ball will go to the team scored upon after each goal is made and will be put in play on an out-of-bounds play. The change was made last year by the rules committee in an effort to minimize the importance of giant centers who monopolized the jump when the ball was placed in play at center. The new rule will speed the game considerably and will probably mean more substituting due to the fast pace expected to be set.

Auto Show Will Open Saturday:
Eleven automobile dealers of Gettysburg and Adams County will hold an automobile show at which the 1958 models will be exhibited. The show will open on Saturday and close a week later, Saturday, December 11. Each dealer taking part will have a special open house at his own showrooms.

Sponsoring the show are Warren Chevrolet Sales, Jennings Motor Company, Glenn L. Bream, Ulrich Motor Company, Central Auto Company, Phil's Garage, National Garage, Hoffman Used Car Garage and Plank and Markley, all of Gettysburg, and the Biglerville Garage of Biglerville and W. W. Zimmerman, of Orrtanna.

Past Grands Of I.O.O.F. Elect J. E. Snyder Head:
J. E. Snyder, a member of Gettys Lodge No. 124, was elected president of the Adams County Past Grands' Association of the I.O.O.F. at the annual organization meeting conducted Thursday evening when the association met with York Springs Lodge No. 211. It was the eightieth annual meeting.

Mr. Snyder succeeds Frank M. Moore, member of Valley Home Lodge, of Fairfield, who has been president of the association for the past year.

Other officers named Thursday evening follow: Vice presidents, Roy Starner, of Montanan Lodge No. 653, of Bendersville; Ralph B. Hoover, of the Fairfield lodge; Murray E. Wentz, of Gettysburg; W. D. Sheely, of Sylvania Lodge No. 124, Littlestown, and John D. Stallsmith, a member of the York Springs lodge; secretary, E. R. Sentz, Littlestown; assistant secretary, Bruce Naugle, York Springs, and treasurer, Oscar A. Lupp, Gettysburg.

J. F. Slaybaugh, County School Head, Resigns:
The resignation of Professor J. Floyd Slaybaugh as superintendent of the public schools of Adams County, effective November 30, was revealed today in an announcement from the office of the county superintendent of schools in the court house.

CAPACITY TO ENJOY
It is a sorry day for that one who has arrived at a time in life when he has lost the desire or capacity to enjoy. All around us are endless opportunities to enjoy if we only would take note of them. A love of nature is one of our greatest joys if we would but study and drink in all that it has to offer.

Nature is bubbling over with interests. It is ever changing. A blade of grass, or an oak leaf, is a miracle! Pick up any stone, anywhere, and you will be looking at a bit of history. In every sunrise and sunset are a multitude of poems. In every drop of dew, and snowflake, are mysteries of art and beauty that challenge the imagination. Why are things so perfect in nature?

In every great painting are paint strokes of beauty and genius — and much of the artist's soul. If we have the capacity, we, too, may enjoy what the artist has put upon the canvas. This capacity to enjoy may be with us through life, if our interests are kept alive.

I find my love of books and art ever increasing, and I know that it will not end for I shall never let my capacity to enjoy die out. We can make ourselves very unhappy if we do. Every morning light of day is an event, and every evening a bit of history closing its page. Something significant is always going on within us. I wish I had read many a great book in my library years ago, but thank God the fire still burns!

If we don't keep the garden of our friends well watered we may lose our capacity to enjoy them when most we need them.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Relaxation."

Just Folks

BUCKLE IN
Just about the time the clouds are blackest
Let your thoughts go roving to the sun.
Just about the time your job is hardest
Think how glad you'll be when it is done.
Buckle to the task that you are facing;
Work away, and pretty soon you'll find
All the little difficulties vanished.
All the little worries far behind.

'Tisn't any use to sit and whimper;
Doesn't help a bit to sit and sigh.
Lose yourself in working out the problem;
If it's hard just buckle in and try.
Don't waste time in thinking what may happen.
Plug along and do the best you can.
That's the way to show the stuff you're made of.
That's the way to prove yourself a man.

HEALTH SERVICE SAYS DISEASES "MORE SEVERE"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Public Health Service today reported an apparent increase in the severity of the acute upper respiratory diseases which have been sweeping the country.

But the service added that the peak of new cases at least for the present, was passed in mid-October.

Apparent severity, measured in terms of days in bed per case, gradually has been increasing, the service said in its weekly report on health survey samplings.

The latest report confirmed earlier indications that new cases of influenza, pneumonia, acute bronchitis and other acute upper respiratory diseases which have reached a peak at 11,933,000 during the week ended Oct. 19.

The estimated number of new cases for the week ended Nov. 9 was 8,241,000, compared with a revised estimate of 9,808,000 for the Nov. 2 week. There were 11,033,000 estimated for the week of Oct. 26.

From July 1 to Nov. 9 it was estimated there had been 82,086,000 new cases of acute upper respiratory diseases which involved an aggregate of 282 million bed days of disability.

White Formally Appointed Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today formally named Asst. Atty. Gen. Wilson White to head the Justice Department's new Civil Rights Division.

Eisenhower's intention to select White was announced by the White House last week. The President gave him a recess appointment. A formal nomination, subject to Senate confirmation, will be sent to Congress when it reconvenes next month.

To accept the new job, White is resigning as assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's office of legal counsel. He will continue to have the rank of assistant attorney general in the new post.

Study Compulsory Reserve At P. S. U.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The compulsory military reserve training program at the Pennsylvania State University was being studied today with a view to a possible recommendation of abolition. A five-man student committee was named last night by the All-University Cabinet to make a recommendation on the question next Thursday. The more than 200 students and faculty members who attended the cabinet meeting at tested to the heat of the issue.

It was pointed out that a committee recommendation would have no power to change or abolish the program. It would be merely a piece of advice which might or might not influence the president and the board of trustees, a spokesman said.

CHALFONT, Pa. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. W. Franklin Crossdale had unexpected company for dinner last night — 19 persons, 12 of whom stayed through the night.

First there was three men whose cars bogged down in snow in this rural Bucks County area. Then came 16 more, 15 pupils at Central Bucks High School and Luther Boyer, a physics teacher sitting in as bus driver. Their bus also found the storm too much.

Mrs. Crossdale fed her guests "pot luck stew."

Seven of the pupils followed a tractor and made their way to their homes in the vicinity. The rest stayed overnight.

Washington Whispers

By Jane Eads

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consider the plight of the Latin diplomat's wife who had to master the art of scolding in English before her children understood her.

Being able to carry on an everyday conversation, contract personal business, shop, run a household, scold if need be — just to get about as an average individual — is a major problem for foreigners everywhere, be they ambassadors, clerks or youngsters.

For the larger numbers of Spanish-speaking people in the capital, who make up the majority of the town's foreign population, an opportunity to learn and speak every-day English is limited.

Envoys and their staffs are confined to speaking the language of diplomacy and business. They and their wives can exchange pleasantries at the usual round of social functions. At home and among themselves they speak only Spanish.

Common Usage English
The children, through their American schools and playmates, pick up English in its most common usage — so much so they begin to lose touch with their native language and often show embarrassment for their parents' inability to express themselves in their new language.

In an effort to bridge the gap between formal and child's English, a non-profit educational organization, the Centro Anglo-Espanol, was founded. It is principally a workshop for professional men and women interested in exchanging each other's languages and customs, but it aims also to promote friendship and knowledge between English and Spanish-speaking peoples of all groups and ages.

Cooperate With Museum

For instance, it cooperates with the Children's Museum of Washington in working out programs for children. Recently a group of South American diplomats' children staged a performance for their North American "amigos" with a toy theater. Currently the center and the museum are staging their second annual fair of children's books in Spanish. It was opened by the Marquis de Santa Cruz, cultural attaché of the Spanish Embassy, who spoke in Spanish to a bilingual audience.

"If you want to learn any language," says Matilda Young, director of the Children's Museum, "begin with children's books, plays, songs, games. All the lessons aren't worth a thing unless you get a chance to use them. This goes for adults as well as children."

UNION OPPOSES SUNDAY SALES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor today summoned a special conference for Feb. 5 to combat what it termed "the evils of Sunday retailing."

It will take place in Harrisburg with invitations going to local Chamber of Commerce groups, retail merchant associations and clergymen.

"This conference has become necessary in order to protect all of organized labor against the insidious menace of the round-the-clock, round-the-week, never-closed business practice of business interests," said President Joseph A. McDonough.

He pointed particularly to the situation in the Allentown area where Hess Bros., a long-established department store, said it will be open Sunday afternoons for the next three weeks.

The department store said it is taking this action to rouse community interest against Sunday retailing practices along the highways in suburban Allentown.

HAMMARSKJOLD TO ASSIGN AIDE ON SCOPUS AREA

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations announced today that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has decided to assign a personal representative to help work out a permanent arrangement between Israel and Jordan for the controversial Mt. Scopus area.

The latest dispute over Israeli access to Mt. Scopus was resolved yesterday in an agreement worked out by Hammarskjöld. This permits an Israeli truck convoy to transport gasoline to the Israeli enclave inside Jordan territory near Jerusalem.

The personal representative, not yet designated, would be given the task of following up the secretary general's talks with Israeli and Jordan officials.

Demilitarized In 1948
He will be named after Hammarskjöld returns here this week-end, the U.N. said.

Mt. Scopus was demilitarized in 1948 after the Arab-Israeli war under a special arrangement by which the area was to be maintained as an Israeli enclave until a permanent settlement is made. The U.N. reported that Israeli and Jordan governments agreed to implement the present agreement on a basis of reciprocity. They also accepted U.N. inspection of Mt. Scopus so that a check can be maintained on whether terms of the agreement are being met.

Hammarskjöld's view is that neither side should be allowed to build up a military presence in the area.

BRIGHT SUN IN WAKE OF STORM THROUGH EAST

NEW YORK (AP) — A bright sun returned today in the wake of yesterday's early season snowstorm that lashed the east coast from Connecticut to Virginia, causing 10 deaths and snarling transportation.

Despite the sunshine, the temperature in many places continued below the freezing mark keeping highways slippery and hazardous. Huge forces of road workers turned out for the giant task of clearing travel lanes.

There were record snowfalls in New York and New Jersey, and stinging hard winds piled up huge drifts in spots. As the storm moved on into the Atlantic, the wind eased.

Two Feet In Maryland

The snow measured up to two feet in Maryland. In northern Maine temperatures fell to 10 below zero although the state itself escaped the snowstorm. Winds reached 45 miles an hour.

Accidents were numerous and transportation difficulties great yesterday in many places, particularly the heavily populated New York and Philadelphia areas.

Early today the New York City Sanitation Department, cancelling the day off some workers ordinarily would receive, threw an 8,700-man cleanup brigade onto the streets. Through the night snowplows had battled to keep main arteries open.

The city received 7.3 inches of snow during a continuous 25-hour fall, topping the 6.5 mark for the date set in 1911. The storm ended at 10:30 o'clock last night. Very seldom is such a storm recorded so early in the season.

Winds diminished considerably today.

A band of cars dotted the streets on morning buses crept at slow paces, both from the icy conditions and extra numbers of riders swarming on them.

Similar conditions existed in Philadelphia, which measured 6 inches of snow in the city and 10 inches in suburban areas.

Many rural and suburban schools were closed.

Genevieve Blatt's Brother Promoted

HARRISBURG (AP) — Joseph A. Blatt, brother of Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt today was promoted to chief of the Division of State Parks in the Forests and Waters Department.

His salary in the new post was fixed at $8,580 annually. Blatt has been park planning specialist since January, 1956. He is a graduate in forestry at Pennsylvania State University.

Catastrophes, such as hurricanes and accidents, took approximately 1,200 lives in the United States in the first half of 1957.

State Digs

plant and office workers left their cars at home or in the snowdrifts where they had been abandoned yesterday.

Both the Reading and Pennsylvania railroads said they were maintaining schedules with deviations held to the minimum.

There could be no doubt it was a major storm. There were many tales of death and narrow escapes. Two Ridley Twp. residents leaped to safety from their automobile stalled on the Baltimore & Ohio tracks near their homes, moments before the car was struck by a train during the height of the snow.

Plows At Airport

Snow plow crews were hard put trying to keep the runways cleared at Philadelphia's big International Airport with the 30 m.p.h. gusts drifting them over as fast as they could be plowed.

Plants, factories and offices sent their workers home early yesterday but this move was of little help in solving the transportation snarl as buses and trolleys bogged down. Hotels in Philadelphia were jammed and turning away would-be guests by the hundreds long before nightfall.

The city of Philadelphia declared a traffic emergency in mid-afternoon yesterday and brought every available piece of snow removal equipment into action.

At least nine deaths in the Greater Philadelphia area were blamed on heart attacks induced by over exertion.

Little, Nelson Selected To All-South Penn Team; Five Other Warriors Get Mention

EARL LITTLE

ROBERT NELSON

Two Gettysburg High School players, Earl Little, senior quarterback, and Bob Nelson, junior guard, were named to the official South Penn All-Conference football team for 1957 which was selected by the South Penn Sportswriters' and Sportsman's Association in conjunction with all eight coaches of the conference.

Little and Dave Rodman, Hanover end, are the honorary captains of the first team as the result of receiving the highest number of votes—85 each. A maximum of 90 was possible.

Carlisle's championship team captured three first team berths while Gettysburg and Hanover each gained two.

There are nine seniors on the first team. The only non-seniors are Nelson and Karl Kemble, Hershey.

shey, sophomore tackle. Last year's team was comprised solely of seniors, consequently there are no repeaters.

Five other Gettysburg lads gained honorable mention. They include Gary Maitland, end; Ken Kimple, tackle; Roy Coldsmith and Robert Zhea, guards, and Kenny Keefer, back.

Balloting was close for most positions, especially in the backfield. Charley Marks, Carlisle, and Tom Good, Hanover, wound up with 42 votes apiece and an extra ballot was needed to break the deadlock.

Marks getting the nod which placed him on the first team while Good was relegated to the second squad.

At the meeting of the writers' association there were 66 nominations made and a total of 60—highest in history—received votes.

Blue Jays Play At MSM Tonight; Mount Duo Hurt

Mt. St. Mary's College will be without the services of Dick Talley, promising 6-4 freshman from Gloucester, N. J., and Joe Sullivan, 6-3 senior, when the Mountaineers open their basketball season tonight at 8:30 o'clock against Elizabethtown at Emmitsburg.

Talley is reported in a critical condition at a Camden, N. J., hospital after suffering a kidney injury while practicing during the Thanksgiving recess. Sullivan is nursing a sprained ankle.

Following tonight's game the Mount hosts the strong Steubenville, O., cagers at Emmitsburg Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. There will be no preliminary games.

SP CONFERENCE MOVES UP CAGE CARD FOR 1958

At the regular fall meeting of the South Penn Conference held Wednesday evening at the Country House, New Kingston, it was decided that all league teams will play three basketball games prior to January 1 in the 1958-59 season.

Moving up the schedule was brought about in order to complete the league season in time for the PIAA playoffs as well as to enable Hershey to fit in its home schedule with Milton Hershey High, both using the Industrial School court.

Next season Gettysburg plays at Hershey on December 19, and hosts Carlisle on December 23 and Hanover on December 30.

Baseball and track schedules for 1958 were approved. The conference track meet was set for Saturday, May 10, and will probably be staged on the Gettysburg College field.

Study Expansion
Earlier in the day superintendents and principals attended a meeting at the Molly Pitcher Hotel, Carlisle, and discussed the football and basketball alignments. For the present the football conference will remain the same but there is a possibility the basketball league will be enlarged and a split season followed.

A committee composed of Carl Graham, Mechanicsburg; Mark Burkhardt, Carlisle; Guile Lefever, Gettysburg, and George Lang, Hershey, along with Robert Beard, Chambersburg, conference president in an ex-officio capacity, was named to study the expansion program.

Basketball officials for the coming season were approved and Mr. Burkhardt was designated to attend the District 3 meeting today at Hershey.

Beard presented the 1957 football trophy to Ken Miller, Carlisle coach.

The conference meeting was attended by George Forney, Ben Jones and Lefever of Gettysburg, Lefever and H. Edgar Riegler, superintendent, attended the meeting of the superintendents and principals.

CELTICS DROP LAKERS LOWER

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It looks like a long, cold winter for the fast-fading Minneapolis Lakers.

Once the titans of the National Basketball Assn. when George Mikan was an active player, the lowly Lakers have fallen upon evil times with Mikan now at the coaching helm.

Minneapolis dropped deeper into the Western Division cellar last night as the sizzling Boston Celtics rallied in the final period to hand the Lakers a 108-98 setback in the only game played.

A doubleheader at Philadelphia involving Detroit against Cincinnati and St. Louis against Philadelphia was postponed until tonight because of a snowstorm.

The Lakers have lost 10 of their last 11 games and have won but three of 20 starts overall. The Celts, running away with the Eastern Division race, own a 17-2 won-lost mark.

Texas has a gross area of 266,296 square miles.

Expects League To Decide On Members

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Thomas H. Richardson, president of the Class A Eastern League, says he expects the league to make a decision on its membership lineup today.

Richardson said yesterday that Lancaster, Pa., was ready to field a team in the event Schenectady, N.Y., does not remain in the league.

Action on the naming of the league's final member was postponed yesterday at a directors' meeting.

Richardson said Allentown, Reading, York and Williamsport, Pa.; Springfield, Mass.; Albany and Binghamton, N. Y., are definitely lined up for the 1958 season.

DECIDE EASTERN TITLE SATURDAY

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—The champion in the Eastern Interscholastic Football Conference's Southern Division will be determined in a playoff game between Shamokin and Cass Twp. Saturday in Pottsville.

The decision for the playoff game came last night at an emergency meeting of the conference which was attended by 29 schools of the 55-member group.

The meeting was called after Shamokin, which olds a two-point lead over Cass Twp. for the division title, threatened legal action to hold its front-running position based on last week's ratings.

Shamokin's action was a protest against Summit Hill's decision to play off two of its previously postponed conference games with Lansford and McAdoo.

In another action, the conference ruled to rescind a probationary period placed against Lansford, Summit Hill and McAdoo for failure to complete their conference schedule.

Iowa Tackle Is Lone Repeater On All-America Team; Christy, Hill, Crow, Pace Win Berths

By BOB HOOEING

NEW YORK (AP)—A halfback whose first field goal attempt made history, a "comeback" tackle and a senior giant making his varsity debut at center today were named to the 1957 Associated Press All-America football team.

North Carolina State's Dick Christy is the electrifying runner whose 45-yard boot climaxed a record 29-point finish to his brilliant year and clinched the Wolf-pack's first Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

Quarterback King Hill of Rice, bonus pick of the National Football League, Texas A&M's massive John Crow and elusive Jimmy Pace of Michigan complete the backfield.

Flop As Sophomore
Rated by Coach Forest Evashevski as a dismal flop as a sophomore, Iowa tackle Alex Karras has become one of the finest linemen in recent years. The 233-pounder from Gary, Ind., is the lone repeater from 1956.

Don Currie of Michigan State was asked to plug a gap at center after two years as guard. The 6-3, 225-pound Detroit lad had it so effectively he was ranked No. 1 player in the area by the Midwest board.

The remainder of the line includes Jimmy (Big Red) Phillips of Auburn's national titlists and Dick Wallen of UCLA at ends, rugged Lou Michaels of Kentucky at the other tackle with Ohio State's Aurelius Thomas and Oklahoma's Bill Krisher manning the guard spots.

The team was selected on recommendations from 12 regional boards.

Second team:
Ends—Les Walters, Penn State, and Fred Dugan, Dayton; tackles

The players are as follows: Ends, Dick Wallen, UCLA, and Jim Phillips, Auburn; tackles, Alex Karras Iowa, and Lou Michaels, Kentucky; guards, Bill Krisher, Oklahoma, and Aurelius Thomas, Ohio State; center, Dan Currie, Michigan State; backs, John Crow, Texas A&M; King Hill, Rice; Jim Pace, Michigan, and Dick Christy, North Carolina State.

Seixas And Flam Win Straight Sets

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—America's Vic Seixas and Herbie Flam swept to easy straight set victories over the top tennis aces of the Philippines today to send the United States into a 2-0 lead in the Interzone Davis Cup Final.

First the 34-year-old Seixas of Philadelphia, in razorsharp form, erased Tony Felicismo Ampon, Philippine giant killer, in a match that took only 53 minutes, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Then Flam, bespectacled, bow-legged ballhawk from Beverly Hills, Calif., attempted to match the time schedule, but failed by three minutes as he crushed Philippine champion Raymond Deyro 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

BASEBALL LAW CHANGES TO BE DECIDED TODAY

By FRANK PITMAN
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Sweeping changes in baseball law were up for decision late today at a closed meeting of minor league executives.

They debated such issues as the bonus rule and unrestricted draft while major league officials at the annual baseball convention bargained over player trades.

The bonus rule in effect since 1950 is expected to be scrapped. Major League player representatives at a meeting yesterday joined in demands for repeal.

Unrestricted Draft Up
A proposal for the unrestricted draft of four-year players was reported due for approval.

Those two issues were among 34 amendments to baseball law up for action.

The present rule labels as a bonus player any youngster who receives more than $4,000 to sign his first organized baseball contract. Major league clubs that sign a bonus player must retain him for two years. If signed by a minor club, the player is subject to unrestricted draft before his contract can be transferred to another club.

Yankies Dissenting
Major players object on grounds that keeping untested youngsters on major rosters for two years blocks out seasoned players.

Most major clubs acting through their minor farms — are supporting repeal of the bonus rule.

The New York Yankees are a chief dissenter. General Manager George Weiss says: "This is an effort by clubs which do not throw initiative, effort and money into their operations to establish serious handicaps for organizations which are fighting to get some-where year after year."

Gets Solid Support
There is solid support for an unrestricted draft of four-year players. It is proposed by the nine-man major-minor league executive committee, headed by Commissioner Ford Frick.

If adopted, the rule would permit unrestricted selection of all players reserved by minor league clubs of AA classification and higher after four years service in organized baseball. The same unrestricted drafting would apply to players with three years service on Class A league rosters and after two years on Class B and Class C rosters.

KENTUCKY AND KANSAS RECORD 2ND VICTORIES

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

Kansas and Kentucky, each tabbed a strong contender for North Carolina's national collegiate basketball championship, have broken from the barrier in a hurry.

So has Wilt (the Silt) Chamberlain, the Jayhawks' amazing marksman.

Both "K" teams hung up their second victories of the infant campaign last night. The Jayhawks rode over Canisius 66-46 as Chamberlain poured in 32 points and Kentucky nipped highly-rated Ohio State, 61-54.

Pittsburgh Impressive
Pittsburgh also scored impressively, 72-62 over Michigan, and tiny St. Norbert College upset supposedly-loaded Marquette 49-47.

Kansas, which whipped Oklahoma State Monday night, led 28-24 at halftime. But with Chamberlain catching fire with 20 points, the Jayhawks crushed Canisius in the second half. Wilt's output have him a 62-point total for the year.

Ohio State's Buckeyes are rated tops in the Big 10, along with Michigan State and Indiana, and they showed the Wildcats why they managed to deadlock the game at 39-39 in the second half, but Vern Hatton's jump shot snapped the deadlock and the Wildcats led the rest of the way.

Hennon Paces Pitt
Don Hennon, Pitt's 5-8 scoring ace, paced the Panthers to their triumphs collecting 26 points on eight field goals and 10 free throws in a rough game that saw three players from each team sidelined on fouls.

Marquette's loss was its second in two starts through Coach Jack Nagle has described the team as his best since 1954-1955. That one put together a 24-3 record.

Still, their opponents from De-Pere, Wis., had the answer in ball-court strategy.

Elsewhere, Clemson, which will touch off North Carolina's campaign Saturday night, bowed to Georgia's Bulldogs 62-60.

Maryland, strong Atlantic Coast Conference team, opened its season by turning back George Washington 64-55.

JOE BROWN IS WINNER WITH TKO IN 11TH

CHICAGO (AP)—Lightweight champion Joe Brown, fresh from blasting aside game but over-matched Joey Lopes, is poised for a probable February title defense against Ralph Dupas at Houston, Tex.

Brown last night scored an 11th-round technical knockout of Lopes in a televised championship bout that was more uneven than it may have looked.

On points, Lopes was still very much in the fight until the champion lowered the boom in 1:50 of the 11th round, but actually Brown was toying with the 4-1 underdog virtually from the start.

Floored In Seventh
Brown fought a retreating fight in the early rounds, but scarcely used a right-hand punch. In the seventh, the champion exploded a right to the chin which floored Lopes for a count of four.

The fight really was over right then. Lopes fought back gamely, but in the 10th round, the scrapper from Sacramento, Calif., wandered in a daze to Brown's corner and sat on the champion's stool.

In the 11th, Brown came out for the kill. A square right shot to the jaw dumped Lopes, who took a three count. Lopes righted himself, only to run into another explosive right to the chin which dropped him again. Lopes struggled to his feet once more. Brown savagely belted him and Referee Joey White flew between the two to signal a TKO and save Lopes from possible serious injury.

Each fighter weighed 133½ for the scheduled 15-round.

MULBERRY ST. BRIDGE OPENS

HARRISBURG (P) — The reconstructed Mulberry Street Bridge was open to all traffic today. Mayor Nolan Zeigler cut a ribbon reopening the bridge yesterday. Some 200 prominent local citizens were on hand for the ceremonies in a heavy snowstorm. Traffic began moving across the bridge a few minutes later, but a snow plow and a cinder spreader led the procession. The one million dollar project, begun last July 11, was designed to make the bridge safe for vehicles of all weight. Since March 1956 vehicles over three tons had been barred. An estimated four to five months' work still remains to complete the finishing touches to the project. The bridge carries traffic from the Hill District into downtown Harrisburg.

GAMECOCKS WON ON 21 POINTS IN 95 SECONDS

By ED YOUNG.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The afternoon of Nov. 1, 1952, was sunny but cold here in Norfolk, and at Foreman Field the boys in the press box watching the Virginia-South Carolina football game felt a need for hot coffee.

It had been a long, dull afternoon with heavily-favored Virginia giving South Carolina's Gamecocks a bad battering as expected. At the moment the score was 14-0, and with the outcome obvious, some sports writers already had begun writing their accounts with about seven minutes to play.

There was no hot coffee in the press box. A downhearted South Carolina publicity man volunteered to walk downstairs and buy some at a concession booth "if you guys will take it easy on us in the papers."

Missed Whole Show

By the time he got back with the coffee, he'd missed the only part of the show he'd have cared to see.

In the space of 95 seconds, the Gamecocks — fired up by a substitute quarterback and abetted by Virginia's acute attack of galloping nerves — had scored three touchdowns and added three extra points to triumph 21-14.

The final 15-minute quarter was 8:35 old when South Carolina, able to get across midfield only three times previously, stopped a Virginia drive on its 25 and sent third-stringer Dick Balka in as replacement for its star quarterback Gramling.

Balka, who had been South Carolina's varsity quarterback in 1951, had obvious instructions. A good passer, he was told to pass.

Aerials Connect

He missed connections on his first two. But on third down he hit Lockhart McLendon 34 yards away on the Virginia 41. His next pass went 16 yards to Frank Shea on the Cavalier 25. And his next was right in the arms of Clyde Bennett in the end zone. Jim Jarratt's extra-point kick made the score 14-7.

Herman Gatling, big Virginia fullback, took the subsequent kickoff for the Cavaliers and fumbled on his 6. South Carolina recovered and in three plays, Mike Caskey barreled over for the touchdown and Jarratt added a second conversion that tied the score at 14-14.

It had taken South Carolina just one minute and 15 seconds to close the gap.

Pulsating Finish

South Carolina kicked out of bounds. The second kickoff went to Virginia's fleet halfback, Eddie Knowles, who sped up field—but Virginia was detected clipping and was penalized to its 6.

On the Cavalier's first play from scrimmage, quarterback Charlie Harding fumbled, couldn't locate the ball, finally spotted it rolling in the end zone, raced back to pick it up, let it squirt out of his hands and watched in horror as South Carolina's Bob King plopped on it for the touchdown that won the game. Jarratt kicked another conversion to make it 21-14.

FIFTY YEARS LATE

YORKTOWN, Va. (AP) — Commander Walter Raleigh Gilbert of the British Navy got a golden rooster but 50 years late.

Gilbert, a descendant of Sir Walter Raleigh, won it in a boat race at the Jamestown Exposition of 1907, but the financially hard pressed festival never delivered it. Those running the festival commemorating the 350th anniversary of Jamestown made good with Gilbert.

FRUSTRATION

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — It didn't take Detective Ed White long to figure that the burglar who broke into an office was angry.

The would-be robber had cut the hinges off the company's safe, knocked off the knob, beaten the handle and pounded away in general without getting it open.

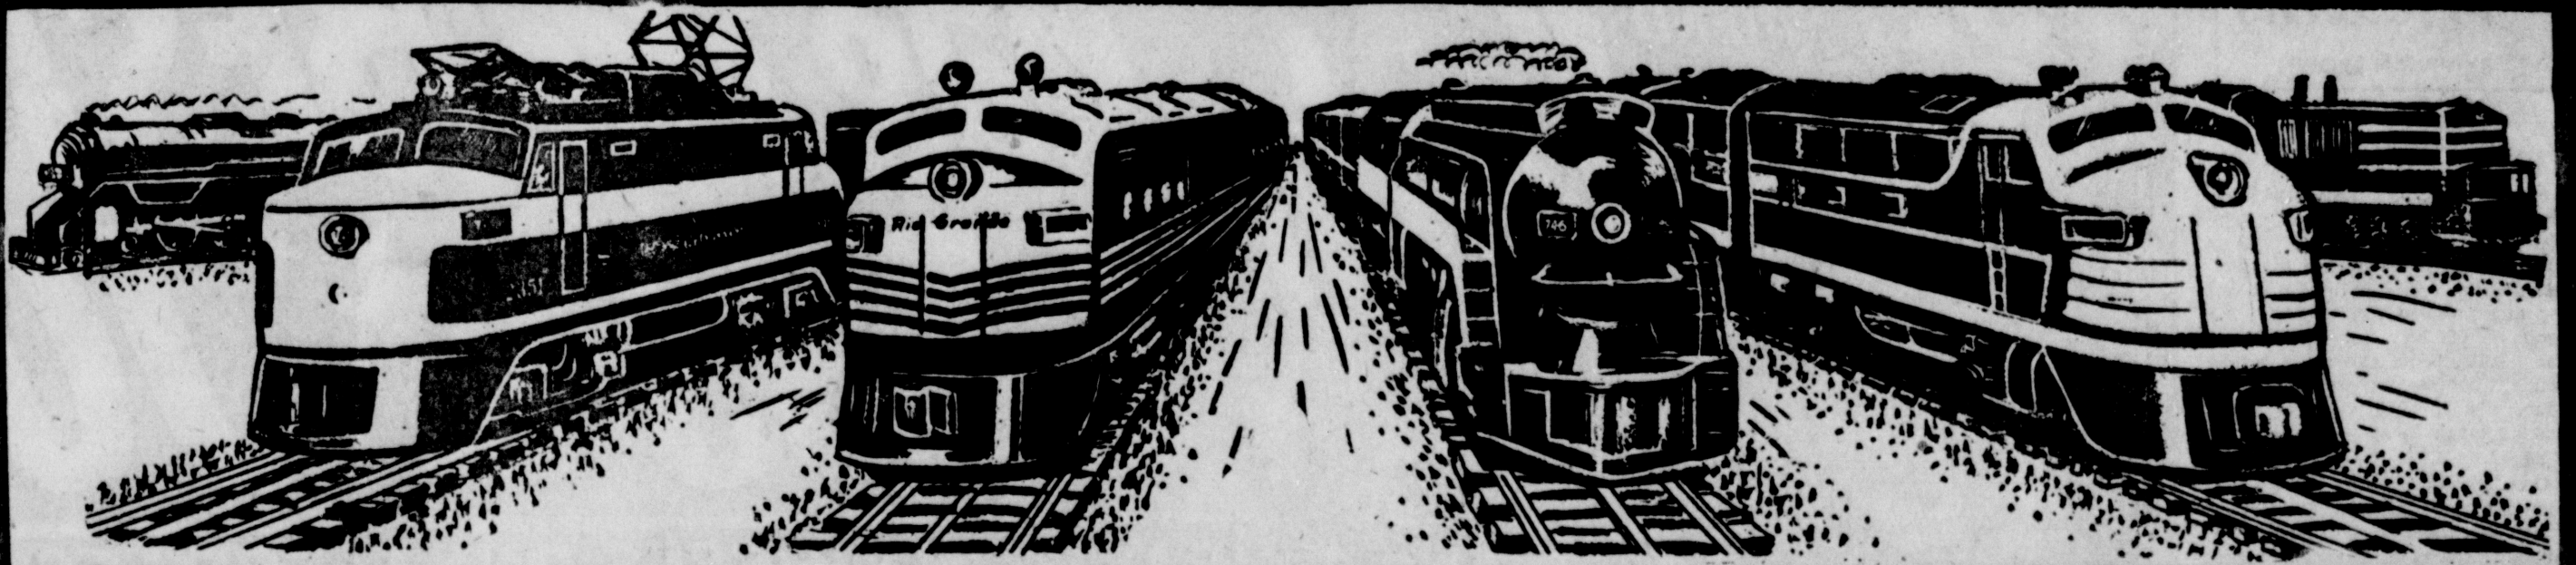

Then apparently outraged, the thief poured a pot of glue over a typewriter and left empty-handed.

The first recorded pari-mutuel payoff in this country came in 1879 at Churchill Downs. A colt named Carson won and returned $233.20 for $2.

Young Moderns

BY VIVIAN BROWN

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

The patter of little feet is far from enchanting when dripping snow on the living room rug. The steady tripping of small boots through the house during the winter months can create a problem for any mother. It's not just the problem of how to handle wet snow suits, boots and mittens that keeps a mother's nerves on razor edge, it's how to keep a home looking clean in spite of the little troopers.

One entrance of the house should be equipped for this emergency — a door at the kitchen or laundry entrance, perhaps. The idea is to catch the snow man brigade before drippy jackets and mittens are tossed on the dining room chairs.

Capture Young Exuberance
A definite plan is necessary. At the kitchen or laundry entrance, or whichever one you select, the area should be equipped with a couple of items to capture that youthful exuberance that sends feet helter-skelter over the rugs. (There is a plastic runner too that may be used in living rooms and dining rooms.)

The smallest area can be equipped appropriately for this purpose. There should be a box for boots, a wall rack for wet clothes, a handy rack of paper towels, a small mirror, a little shelf with hand cream or baby oil to pat on cold hands and cheeks.

Use As A Bench
A boot box may be a narrow box with a lid on it. Line it with paper towels. Tots may sit on it to remove their boots. Oil cloth across the floor and under the wall rack will help catch snowsuits and raincoat drippings. Paper towels come in handy to blot wet hands and faces and also to stuff shoes if they become wet. If house slippers are kept in this area also, these should be appreciated by small fry.

If the entrance is through a garage, teach the youngsters to park their equipment on the way into the house. Sleds, ice-skates, skis or what have you may be put in the garage after use rather than tossing them into the yard for Dad to pick up. One father has installed pegs and racks on the garage wall to hold sports equipment, and all members of the family must hang up their own gear.

Label Boots, Rubbers
A good idea too, is to label the child's boots and rubbers in waterproof ink on adhesive tape so that articles will be easily identified when the brood is ready to take off for school or play.

The daily mitten hunt may be solved by putting up a small line along this same wall. Paint clothes pins with each child's name so mittens may be put up to dry as soon as youngsters enter the house. Knitted snow caps may be stuffed with paper towels also, and put up on the line to dry. A small chest of drawers may hold changes of outdoor clothes for water soaked youngsters if the corridor is wide enough. Then there will be less temptation for a youngster to continue playing in water-soaked togs. To harness their attention at the door, put up a special child's wall-paper in this area, or cut-outs of animals, trains, clowns and birds.

DOGS

by Farley Manning

MORE DOPE ON VITAMINS

About a month ago I mentioned that I have been giving my daughter's Bedlington Terrier a new vitamin supplement that has not only improved her coat and given her new vigor, but actually tastes so good that it makes her eat more when added to her food.

Publication of this has brought such an unusually large amount of mail that I want to answer some of the questions that I apparently failed to cover in the original column.

No, I don't necessarily say that all dogs should take vitamin supplements any more than I would say that all humans should. I checked back with the experts at the Upjohn Company who make the product, Pelonic, which we are using. They take the position that this is a question for your veterinarian, but admit that the vitamins can do no harm to any normal dog. In effect, the only harm feeding additional vitamins can do is to your pocketbook.

But good vitamin additives are not cheap — and cheap additives are not worth feeding. So it is probably well to use a little judgment.

If your dog is really losing weight, is listless, has a runny nose or any other positive symptom I certainly recommend a check with your vet. But if your dog is healthy, although not filling out as well as you would like, or is a little off his feed or otherwise not quite "up to snuff," you can do no damage by stepping up his vitamin intake by the use of a good additive for his food.

Perhaps I can sum it up this way: the only danger in feeding additional vitamins is the delay home-prescribing can cause in getting your dog to the vet if there is something really wrong with him.

As to the best types of food for a dog that is off his feed I always recommend shifting back and forth between meal and canned types of dog food, whether or not vitamins are added. If best grades of commercial food are used this insures that the dog is getting a completely balanced diet while at the same time giving him a change to tempt his

LOVE UNFLINCHING

"Buy a pup and your money will buy love unflinching that cannot lie." There's no reason to believe that when Kipling wrote those words many years ago he was thinking of Christmas, 1957. But when we think of the many people, children and adults alike, whose Christmas Day will be made merrier through the gift of a puppy, we will realize again that Kipling's words still ring true.

Perhaps those who are lucky enough to receive a pup for Christmas will not know for some time that their gift represents "love unflinching that cannot lie." At first, they may be more impressed by their puppy's cute appearance, by its sharp little eyes, its playful manner. A dog's companionship and loyalty become more apparent as he matures through the years. It is when the frolicsome Christmas puppy grows into the faithful family friend, the guardian of the household, the good companion of one's lonely hours, that we fully realize that the words, "Man's Best Friend," cannot be considered an idle phrase.

It has been said that the dog is the most adaptable of all creatures, that he has assumed different shapes, sizes and temperaments to fit himself to the varying needs of his masters. But every dog has one thing in common, he is large or small. Maurice Maeterlinck explained it this way: "He is born our friend; while his eyes are still closed, already he believes in us; even before his birth, he has given himself to man."

Perhaps all of us can learn a lesson from the dog's inherent honesty and devotion, a lesson appropriate for Christmas, 1957.

COLORS IN DOGS

Colors are fashionable this year, the automobile designers are emphasizing, but they have always been fashionable in dogs. Milady can match or contrast her car or realized fully, there are certain things to be remembered.

First, the dog's ancestors must be chosen with care. A luxuriant coat, like baldness, is hereditary. And just as a child's hair may grow darker or lighter as the child grows older until the shade characteristic of his ancestry is reached, so may a dog's.

Next, a healthy coat, both texture and bloom of the hair, is attained only on a healthy animal. The dog must be properly fed. It must be kept free of parasites and disease. And it must be kept clean and decently trimmed and well-groomed.

Next to the right choice of grandparents and healthy living conditions and correct feeding—which cannot be stressed too much—a ready brush regularly used is a dog's coat's and color's best friend.

NAMING YOUR PUPPY

A dog's name is as important to him as a man's is to a man; it becomes a part of its owner's personality in the bearer's own mind. And a dog's name can be equally important to the dog's owner, because the name properly used, is the easiest and usually most effective way of keeping a dog under control at all times it is in sound of its master's or mistress's voice.

A puppy can be hardly too young to be taught its name so its sense of identification is immediate and absolute and the puppy will respond instantly on hearing it. Many experienced dog breeders teach each puppy its name before it has been weaned.

The easiest way to do that is to associate the name in the puppy's mind with its favorite food. A spoonful of milk in a saucer, or a bit of dog food is a proper supplement to the mother's milk as soon as the puppy shows signs of beginning to teethe, and if the puppy is called by name when it is picked from the nest, and again and again while it is placed before the food, and then praised by name after it has eaten, he will soon learn to come when he is called.

Because the sense of identification does become absolute, it is never a good thing to attempt to change a dog's name after he has learned one is his. Sometimes it is impossible. In any case it is confusing to the dog, and the practical usefulness of the name is damaged if not destroyed.

Choice of a name deserves considerable thought. It should be short — no more than one or two syllables is best — and one that the dog's owner can pronounce distinctly, and both in a tone of warm affection or sharply as occasion demands.

Pronounced sharply it can jerk a dog out of danger or make him stop instantly doing something he shouldn't do. Another tone of voice makes its use a reward he prizes above all other things.

Why Do Children Have So Many More Colds In Winter?

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

Why do our children have so many more colds in winter than in summer?

One reason is the very dry air in most of our well-heated homes. We keep our houses warm, all right. There is scarcely an American home without central heating, but until comparatively recently little attention has been given to the humidity of our warm winter houses.

Warm dry air is quite irritating to the mucous membranes of the nose and throat. The dry air parches these sensitive areas and as a result much of the protective secretions which normally ward off germs are unable to function. As a result, a few germs reaching such dried out tissues get a chance to grow and produce illness. If the nose and throat were in better condition these few germs might easily be killed off by the body's natural defenses.

Winter Drought

To understand what happens to our houses in winter we must understand this question of humidity. The amount of water that air can absorb depends upon the temperature of the air. The warmer the air the more water it can "hold." When air has absorbed all the water it possibly can at any given temperature we say the humidity is 100 per cent.

Suppose we bring cold winter air into our houses. The temperature of the outside air is, let us say, at freezing temperature and it is full of water — 100 per cent humidity. We warm up that air to 70 degrees in the house without adding any water to it. Warm air at 70 degrees could hold a great deal more water than it could at freezing temperature, but since there is no water for it to absorb it is no longer full of water but at about 30 per cent humidity. Air at 20 per cent humidity is dry air and it absorbs every bit of water it comes in contact with. One place flood.

the air finds water in our noses and throats. So each time we breathe in this dry air, the air hangs onto a little of our water. Before long our noses and throats are parched and are good places for those cold germs to grow. A healthy humidity for human beings is about 70 per cent. To maintain healthful conditions within our homes we should add water to the cold outside air when we bring it into our homes.

Many modern heating systems have a device for doing just this. However, most older type heating systems ignore the need for adding water when air is heated and even quite a few new ones do not do the job adequately.

If there is any question about the adequacy of the humidifying system in your house, a worthwhile investment for your family's health this winter would be an instrument for measuring the humidity. If you find that your house is about as dry as the Sahara desert, you'd better take steps to remedy the situation. You do not need to buy a new heating system — but you can buy some humidifying device to put in various rooms — especially the baby's room. Throwing a wet bath towel over the radiator helps, or running a vaporizer for a few hours. A few green plants which you water frequently also help.

If you keep the humidity in your house around 70 per cent you may well find that the whole family has few colds this winter.

Remember the colder it is outside the drier it will be indoors unless you do something about it.

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Who ever was responsible for cleaning the Bethlehem Lutheran Church here 44 years ago missed a place.

Wrecking contractors, dismantling the 75-year-old church, found a grey substance inside the base of the pulpit.

It was mud left from a 1913 it comes in contact with. One place flood.

The Wentling family from Lancaster will be featured at the Adams County Youth For Christ rally Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Centenary EUB Church, Biglerville. Rev. Ralph Wentling was formerly director of Gap Youth For Christ and a film representative of the Billy Graham Association. He is presently director of Brookland Plantation, Edisto Island, S. C., a Christian home for boys.

The Wentling family, consisting of Rev. and Mrs. Wentling, and their three daughters, Eileen, Gladys and Phyllis, will present the gospel in sermon, scene and song. Both vocal and instrumental music will be presented featuring accordions, trumpets, cowbells, cluster bells and vibra harp.

Teacher Killed When "Rocket" Blows Up In Chemistry Class; Seven Students Are Injured

FLOYDADA, Tex. (AP) — A rocket made from a piece of pipe blew up during a high school chemistry class experiment yesterday, killing the teacher and injuring seven students.

Garland Foster, 40, the teacher and a former employee of the Atomic Energy Commission research center at Los Alamos, N.M., was killed.

Keith Hollums, 18, and Jerry Crawford, 17, were seriously injured. The other five had more minor injuries. Three were treated for shock and released.

Hollums had several teeth knocked out and suffered other mouth injuries and was hospitalized here. Crawford suffered ear and face injuries and was taken to a Lubbock hospital for surgery.

Knew Rocket Fuels.

Dennis Whitfill, 18, a member of the class who was only a few feet from the explosion but escaped injury, gave this account: "The teacher used to work at the Atomic Energy Commission research center at Los Alamos and had learned about rocket fuels.

"We had mixed together carbon, potassium chlorate and sulphur and placed it inside this one-foot-long piece of pipe. The ends were capped with a hole in one end.

"We had twine tied to the rocket, which was on a roller skate, and had planned to hold it back with the twine. Later, the teacher said, we would make a stronger fuel, and might even try to launch the rocket."

Fizzed And Exploded

The youth said 14 members of the chemistry class were gathered around the teacher on the school grounds when he struck a match to the opening at one end of the rocket. The match went out.

"The next time he tried," Whitfill said, "the rocket fizzed just a second and then exploded. Pieces of iron went in all directions. The roller skate, what was left of it, was blown about 20 feet away."

Sputniks and atoms have hit the philatelic headlines, too.

Soviet Russia has just issued two new stamps publicizing its space satellites and the United Nations has announced its first stamp for 1958 will honor the International Atomic Energy Agency.

One Soviet stamp depicts a rocket shooting off into space. Another features the Sputnik about to leave the earth. A new sputnik stamp is expected to be issued, claims J. and H. Stolow in New York.

The U.N. Postal Administration says its first commemorative of 1958 will be issued Feb. 10 in the 3 cent and 8 cent denominations. It will show the U.N. emblem shedding light on an atom and will symbolize the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The stamp was designed by Robert Perrot of France and will be the ninth in the series of U. N. work of United Nations agencies.

The autonomous Republic of Togo has issued three series of stamps. One series has 14 postage stamps, another has seven and a third has five airmails. The subjects are mostly flora and fauna of the French colony.

Australia has issued a new 2 shilling stamp honoring the inauguration of the first Australian "round the world" air service. The 2 shilling blue adhesive depicts a Super Constellation plane over part of the globe. The wording reads: "Encircling the Earth." The route from Sydney will be via the United States, London, Europe, Asia and back to Sydney.

Franklin R. Bruns, Jr. has been named Director of the Division of Philately of the U. S. Post Office Department. Bruns has been Curator of the Division of Philately and Postal History at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C. He succeeds Robert E. Fellers who retired in September after 43 years of postal service.

Peru will commemorate the centenary of its postage stamps by issuing 10 new stamps. The first nine values will honor the centenary and the last will pay tribute to PEREX, the stamp exhibition planned for the philatelic occasion.

Switzerland has issued six new stamps honoring the Universal Postal Union, reports the New York Stamp Co. Depicted are the winged Pegasus and the U.P.U. buildings.

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. J. G. Bruton said a friend wrote a Texas motel for a reservation and asked if he could bring along his dog.

The reply said: "We have never had a dog fall asleep in bed smoking and burn anything up. We have never had a dog spill alcoholic drinks all over the furniture and ruin it. We have never caught a dog leaving the premises with a bath towel or pillowcase in his suitcase. Sure, the dog is welcome."

GIVES RULING FOR SCHOOLMEN

HARRISBURG (AP) — County school superintendents and their staffs may use school funds to finance trips to out-of-state educational meetings, provided they have met all expenses for intra-county meetings, the Justice Department ruled yesterday.

The formal opinion applies to superintendents, their assistants and supervisors of special education.

The Justice Department also ruled that a child's teacher has the responsibility for assigning a handicapped child to classes, not the school district board of directors nor the county board of directors.

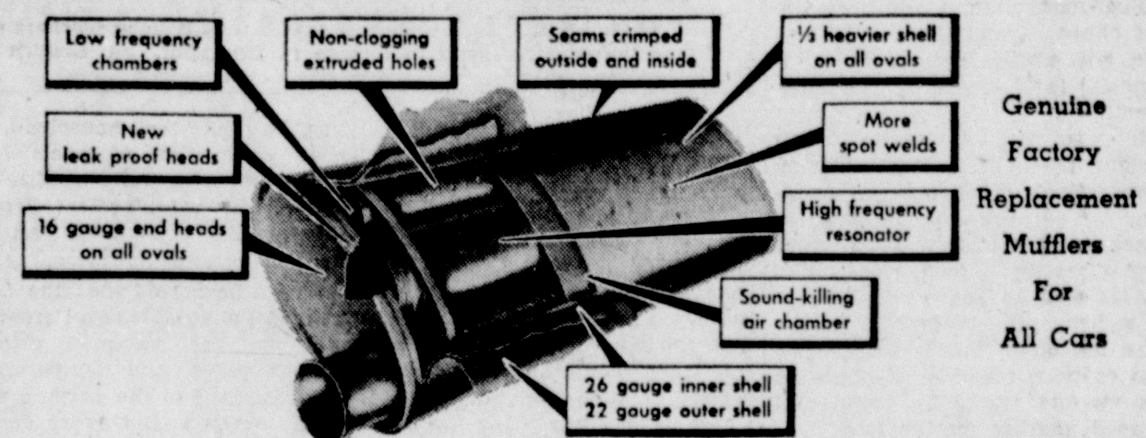

The department also held that certification of a child as handicapped in second, third and fourth class school districts must be made by a public school psychologist and that the child's family physician has no such right.

VOTERS OKAYED CONSOLIDATION OF 50 DISTRICTS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania voters last month heeded the advice of the Public Instruction Department and eliminated 50 school districts through approval of consolidations which will go into operation in July.

The department said ballots cast in special referenda at November's local elections showed the voters abolishing 76 districts and replacing them with 26 new consolidated units.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of public instruction, described the voters' action as "a fine example of democratic action."

Nine Turned Down

Although 9 communities voted against proposed consolidations, voters in 17 counties approved mergers which will bring the total number of districts in the state down to 2,353 in July.

"Without prodding or pressure the people of these 26 communities have chosen to create more practical and efficient administrative units to operate their schools," Dr. Boehm said.

He explained that this was the greatest number of mergers approved in any one year by voters since such action by ballot was approved in 1911.

"Although the elimination of 50 districts is the best single effort in one year for nearly half a century," Boehm reminded, "it will still take about 25 years at this rate before the number of districts is reduced to recommended minimum."

He expressed hope that the voters' action this year would "persuade others to follow."

Under law, voters of any community are given the opportunity to abolish two or more small school districts and replace them with a single district.

Eliminated 213

Somerset County led the state in the November election with a record nine eliminations approved by ballot.

Perry County was second with seven and Lancaster County third with six.

Since the law was put into effect in 1911, 213 school districts have been eliminated and replaced with 115 merged units.

RESTAURANT ASSN. STUDIES WAGE CHANGES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Restaurant Assn. called its board of directors into session today to discuss proposed revision of the minimum wage rates now in effect for women and minor employees in the industry.

President George Bolanis, Pittsburgh, said the association wants "a fair, reasonable and realistic" rate but said the nine-member state agency now studying the problem should take all factors into consideration, including "the difference in the cost of doing business by the operator in a small community and the restaurant owner in the large metropolitan areas."

To Hold Final Hearings

The agency should also take into consideration "the effect any adjustment in the minimum wage scales may have on menu pricing, continuous high standards and value received by the public."

The state agency has been holding public hearings in Allentown, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh on minimum hourly rates for women and minors, not only in the restaurant industry, but in the hotel and motel industries as well.

Final public hearings are to be held here tomorrow.

The present minimums range from 20 to 39 cents, depending on whether or not meals are included. Male adult employees are covered by separate laws.

POSTMASTER
PLANNING FOR HOLIDAY RUSH

The Littlestown post office is making plans for handling a large volume of Christmas mail again this year. Postmaster Clarence Schwartz said, "The cooperation of the people in the community during the past number of years has been greatly appreciated, and it is hoped the same fine spirit of cooperation will be experienced again this year," he said.

All mail should be carefully addressed to house number or rural route number. Christmas mail should be separated and tied into packs labeled local (all delivered by local office), and out-of-town (that which is delivered at another office). Stamps should be carefully affixed so that delay for postage will not be necessary. Sacks will be placed in the lobby for deposit of packs of Christmas mail which will not go into mail slots. All important mail should be deposited in the regular mail slots for safety. The office will remain open until 5 p.m. on the two Saturdays, December 14 and 21.

Plan Record Hop

Littlestown Explorer Post No. 84 will sponsor a record hop on Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Littlestown High School auditorium. All Senior Girl Scout units of Adams County and all Explorer Posts in the Black Walnut District are invited to attend. Allen Drake, popular disc jockey over radio station WCAO, Baltimore, will serve as emcee. Wayne Miller is the event director.

The annual Christmas party and covered dish supper for members of the Ever Faithful Bible Class of Redeemer's United Church of Christ and their guests will take place in the church social hall on Friday, 1:30 p.m. There will be an exchange of gifts.

A public party will be held in St. Aloysius Parish Hall on Saturday evening, 8 p.m. Prizes will be given and refreshments will be available.

News About Town

The Junior Fellowship of Centenary Methodist Church will meet at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, in the parsonage social room. The group will continue work on the Fellowship Christmas project.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of Centenary Church will conduct a door-to-door sale of homemade cookies and candies on Saturday afternoon, starting at 1 o'clock.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, will sponsor a public party at the Eagles Home, W. King St., on Friday, beginning at 8 p.m.

Of the more than 50 animal, vegetable and mineral products which go into the making of a modern automobile, less than half, surprisingly enough, are metals.

Furthermore, nearly one pound in every five of its weight is some non-metallic substance.

Rubber is the most used of the vegetable species, with some 175 pounds of the bouncy stuff used for tires, shock mountings, weather sealers and foam-type upholstery. Gasoline is the only non-metal (through a mineral) which comes close to rubber, weighing in (with a full tank) at just over a hundred pounds.

Cotton, sisal, jute and cork are others of the vegetable family which have found their way into cars.

Minerals, as might be expected, are the most common substances utilized in cars, among the weightier being glass, water, oils, and plastics. However, if metals were added in here where they belong, minerals would outbalance animal and vegetable products by more than four to one.

In a car weighing about 4,000 pounds, just about 700 pounds will be non-metallic substances.

Holiday drivers were warned today that glasses have a dangerous effect on vision. That is, if they've been emptied several times.

The warning comes from the National Safety Council, which says the throttle and the bottle are big factors in the Christmas holiday traffic toll.

Social drinkers, because of the stepped up festivity of the season, present a greater traffic hazard than at any other time of the year, the council said.

Here's A Lesson In Beep
For Children Not Asleep

EDITOR'S NOTE: The kindergarten set, like everyone else, is hearing about earth satellites these days and asking questions. Here is how one father handled his answer.

By NORMAN BELL

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A little girl named Lucinda, who is going on 6, heard that the newspapers were saying that man had made a moon.

"Tell me about it, please," said Lucinda.

So you take paper and pencil, and you draw a moon, and you say to Lucinda:

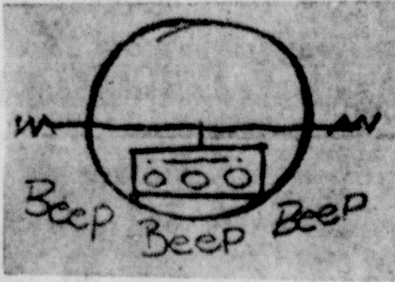

Here is the moon that man made.

A big, shiny ball—

But, after all, for a moon

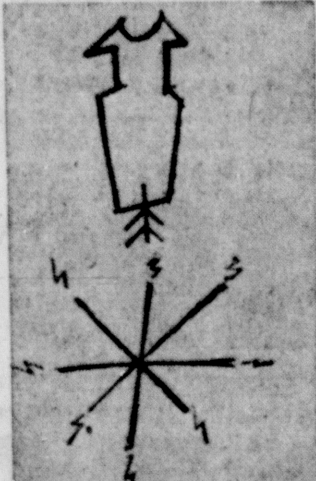

quite small—

With a radio sender inside.

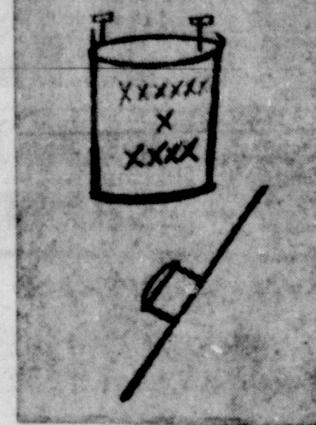

And you draw the radio sender in there, somewhere. Then you say to Lucinda as you draw some more:

And here is a rocket, With a nose like a pocket, To carry the moon that man made.

And here is a spark To fire the rocket, With a nose like a pocket, To carry the moon that man made.

And here is a battery To make the spark, To fire the rocket, With a nose like a pocket, To carry the moon that man made.

And here is a button To signal the battery To make the spark, To fire the rocket, With a nose like a pocket, To carry the moon that man made.

And here is a man, And there is his finger Pushing the button.

And there is the spark, And there goes the rocket, With the moon in its pocket, Up through the clouds, And up through the sky, On out into space, Which is ever so high.

Then out there in space, The rocket blows its pocket, And away goes the moon, Away goes the moon that man made. All by itself, beeping "beepety, beepety beep, beep" For radio listeners who aren't asleep.

So here is the world, And here is man's moon, Going around and around to this tune: "Beepety, Beepety, beep, beep, beep" For radio listeners who aren't asleep.

Christmas holiday accidents, which killed 609 persons, the council found drinking drivers were involved in 55 per cent of the accidents. At other times of the year they are involved in about 30 per cent.

Men were driving in 94 per cent of the accidents studied. In 90 per cent of the accidents only one person was killed.

Almost four out of five victims were men, and these were mostly drivers.

The most common type of accident was collision between two or more cars. Next in order were non-collision, pedestrian, and fixed object collisions.

The most common driver action contributing to fatal accidents was driving on the wrong side of the road or in the center of the road. Failure to observe a signal or stop sign was second. Mechanical failure or tire blow-outs were mentioned in only four of the accidents studied.

In launching its annual Christmas safety campaign, the council said the nation may have a safer and happier Christmas this year if drivers will exert a little care and caution. The traffic trend is encouraging. During the first nine months of the year, traffic deaths dropped 3 per cent from the same period for the previous year—a saving of 800 lives.

"If this rate of improvement can be maintained the rest of

FIRMS SILENT

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The 41-year-old president of both the bankrupt Farmers Exchange of Lakewood, N.J., and Toledo Bros., Inc., Bloomsburg, Pa., has declined to testify about the finances of the two companies.

Eugene Deutsch refused yesterday to comment about financing charges made against both firms by Walter E. Heller Co., New York and Chicago. Claims by the Heller Co. for more than a million dollars have placed the Farmers Exchange in bankruptcy and Heller now seeks to extend the bankruptcy proceedings to Toledo Bros.

Heller charged that Toledo Bros. owes about a million dollars to Farmers Exchange.

U. S. CALLS OFF
LAUNCHING OF
"BABY MOON"

By VERN HAUGLAND

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States called off its proposed test launching of the Gamma baby moon last night only 50 minutes short of the target hour.

The combination of a series of minor difficulties forced postponement—particularly a leaky disconnecting valve on the launching rocket's liquid oxygen tank—and a bad break on the weather.

In Washington, John P. Hagen, director of the U. S. Project Vanguard program to launch a series of research satellites during the international geophysical year, said it was his guess that the launching process would be resumed later today so it might be completed tonight or in the early hours of Friday.

No Attempt Today

But J. Paul Walsh, deputy director, told a news conference at issued in 1955 and naming each other as beneficiaries.

Deutsch, who is free on a $25,000 bond on charges of forgery, said the agreement was that Toledo Bros. would take control of the farm in the event of Lewis' death and that Lewis would receive the proceeds of the policy if Deutsch died first.

Patrick Air Force Base officers club that there would be no renewal of the launching attempt today.

Walsh said the launching crew could get the 72-foot rocket ready immediately if it had to, but it would be up to the Defense Department to set the date for a new attempt.

He added that supervisors of the missile test range, 5,000 miles into the South Atlantic from the test center here, had been asked to give the satellite project the best time available for another effort.

At Cambridge, Mass., the Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory announced that the 6.4-inch, 3 1/4-pound test sphere, once it has entered an orbit, will be known officially as "1957 Gamma" for the third letter of the Greek

Leader Wants To Retain Milk Price

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader today urged that the present uniform price for Class 1-A milk in the New York-New Jersey milkshed be maintained.

In a telegram to U. S. Agriculture Secretary Benson, Leader said the expanded milk marketing order which went into effect in August is bringing in additional revenue to Pennsylvania dairy farmers who deliver to the milkshed at the rate of 10 million dollars a year.

A hearing was ordered for Utica, N. Y., today, on the question of reducing the price.

OKAY FEDERAL GRANT

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grant of $60,103 to assist in construction of a new sewage treatment plant and interceptor sewer at Doylestown, Pa., has been approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Total cost of the project will be $200,344.

The name would signify that this was the third man-made moon of the year. If the Soviets launch a third Sputnik before Gamma gets going, the U.S. moon presumably would take the name of Delta, or No. 4.

An hour ago the boy made a date—NOW HE'S GONE FOREVER

That's how it often happens—one moment, happy expectation . . . the next, a sudden heart-stabbing phone call from a stranger. A date cancelled—by brutal unexpected death on the highway.

Traffic accidents play no favorites. The victim could be the girl next door, the boy down the block, even one of your own family.

Last year, 40,000 died on American roads and highways. "Fate" had no hand in this terrible toll. For every traffic death, there's a reason: some driver disobeys a stop sign—disregards speed warnings—fails to stay alert and attentive.

Help stop this senseless waste of life—make our roads highways to happiness, not homicide!

Here's how you can help stop traffic tragedies:

- 1 Drive safely and courteously yourself. Observe speed limits and warning-signs.

Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!

- 2 Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws.

Traffic regulations work for you, not against you.

Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration got a bear by the tail in Adlai Stevenson. He and the administration have worked together briefly. It's probably the last time for both.

He came in as a consultant, goes out as a critic. Yet his role as consultant and then as critic may work to the benefit of both himself and the administration.

If Stevenson had refused to help the administration with advice, and criticism he offered later might be regarded as typical Democratic criticism from a constant critic.

Not Asking Enough

But, put in the position of a man whose ideas the administration wanted and who saw policy making from the inside, he can expect a more attentive audience for what he says.

Yet his very criticism—it seems he doesn't think the administration is asking Congress for enough money in foreign aid and enough secret — sharing cooperation with the allies—may help the administration.

It will if he is persuasive in inducing Congress to give Eisenhower at least as much as he requests. It's usual in the capitol to give a president less than he asks.

People in a position to know Stevenson's thinking said last night he has no quarrel with administration plans as far as they go, but doesn't believe they go far enough.

Matter Of Degree Only

These informants said Stevenson next year will go before Congress and appeal publicly for a "crash program," bigger and broader and more urgent than he believes the administration is considering now.

The administration invited Stevenson in as a consultant because it was anxious for as much solid Democratic-Republican backing — politicians call it bipartisanship — as it could get.

Stevenson made it clear when he took the job that, as a patriotic duty, he would give the advice he thought best and reserve for himself the right to criticize what he didn't agree with.

All this would seem to indicate what seemed pretty clear in the 1956 campaign: that Eisenhower and Stevenson think pretty much the same on basic programs and that their differences are a matter of degree.

Littlestown ALPHA FIREMEN NOMINATE FOR COMPANY POSTS

Alpha Fire Company No. 1 completed nomination of officers at the December meeting held on Tuesday evening in the engine house. The following candidates were chosen for the ballot for the Clair J. Redding and Leslie Shinnham; vice president, Fred C. Sentz, Walter C. Myers and Robert King; secretary, Harry W. Badders; treasurer, Paul E. Alhoff; fire chief, Glenn E. Ohler, who had previously tendered his resignation, but reconsidered after being chosen a candidate; truck foreman, Dennis S. Wallick; drill captain, Bernard G. Kebill; trustee for five years, Bernard M. Selby; trustee for two years, John Burgoon, Clyde Harner, George E. Hornberger and Bernard G. Kebill; trustee for the relief fund for three years, Ralph L. Vice president Clair J. Redding, who presided, appointed the following to serve as an election board: Harry W. Badders, Marvin Miller and Fred A. Miller. It was decided to have the polls open from 6 to 8:45 p.m. on the annual meeting night. The time of the meeting has been changed to 8:30 p.m., due to the community preaching mission service.

The session on Tuesday opened with a group song and prayer in unison. Secretary Harry Badders gave his report. Joseph H. Myers was appointed for membership and the following investigating committee was appointed: Paul L. Hollinger, Richard Stuller and Jack E. Rebert. Bills were ordered paid amounting to $192.34 and receipts of the evening were $28.90. Henry E. Waltman, Leslie Shinnham and James U. Bowers were appointed to serve as auditors.

Two Recent Calls

Fire Chief Ohler reported two calls since the last meeting, with no damage. Truck foreman Wallick reported that efforts are being made to secure bid on an Alternator System, and if the cost is as expected, it is planned to install the system on all three pieces of company equipment. A new social committee to serve for the next quarter was appointed and includes Robert C. Koonitz Sr., Burnell M. Keagy and Glenn E. Ohler.

COUPLE MARKS THEIR GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Motter, W. King St., observed their golden wedding anniversary at their home on Saturday with a somewhat curtailed celebration due to Mrs. Motter's recent hospitalization. Open house was held for the family and a number of friends and neighbors.

Mr. Motter, a son of the late Levi and Mary Bowman Motter, of Carroll Co., and Mrs. Motter, the former Jennie A. Harner, daughter of the late Upton and Mary Jane Sheridan Harner, also of Carroll Co., were married on November 30, 1907, by the late Rev. C. P. Bastian, then of Keyser, W. Va., but formerly a pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Littlestown.

The celebrants, who have resided in Littlestown for approximately 20 years, are the parents of four children: Lewis U., Prince St., Littlestown; Mary, who is Mrs. W. E. Stites, N. Queen St., Littlestown; Bernice, now Mrs. William Sheets, and Doris, who is Mrs. Francis Zepp, both of Hanover. They have 15 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Mr. Motter, who is 70 years old, is a mason by trade, and was a former burgess in Littlestown. Mrs. Motter is 71, and both she and her husband are enjoying fairly good health. Mrs. Motter suffered a broken leg in a recent fall at her home, and is now convalescing.

The couple received many gifts and messages of congratulations on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. Refreshments were served to the relatives and friends who called at the house.

Plan Observance

Universal Bible Sunday will be observed in St. John's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning at 9 a.m., when the Young People's and Adult Departments will meet together. The program will be in charge of the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns. There will be a special film presenting the drama of the Rev. Young Bin In, general secretary of the Korean Bible Society, and the almost miraculous preservation of a Korean Bible manuscript. Mr. In and his wife suffered much during the almost hopeless months of the Korean War. The Bible House in Seoul was burned by the Communists along with the entire stock of scriptures and part of the precious manuscript. Mr. In was forced to hide himself and the manuscript many times from the enemy. He escaped to Japan where the Bible was printed. Today this book is being distributed in Korea. The major part of the film was taken there and is produced by the American Bible Society, a world wide missionary agency, which translates, publishes and distributes the Scriptures in many languages around the world.

Women Elect

Election of officers took place at the December meeting of the United Lutheran Church Women of St. John's Church, held on Tuesday evening at the church. Results of the election follow: Pres-house periodically for the convenience of those in the community who may need some help with problems relating to this board, was turned over to borough officials, since the engine house is borough owned.

Announcement was made that the next quarterly meeting of the Adams County Firemen's Association will be held on Monday, January 6, at 8 p.m. in the Arendtsville fire engine house. The Christmas cheer committee, composed of the president, secretary and treasurer, will meet in the near future to decide on a holiday remembrance for ill or convalescing members of the company. Any member who knows of a brother member who is ill is asked to contact this committee.

At the conclusion of the December business, refreshments were served to the 48 members in attendance by Howard Myers, Mark Redding and Paul P. Boller Jr.

dent, Mrs. Edgar A. Wolfe; vice president, Mrs. James L. Rhoades; secretary, Mrs. Lloyd L. Stately; treasurer, Mrs. Harry W. Badders. Mrs. Paul E. King and Mrs. Harry O. Harner were appointed to serve as auditors.

The meeting opened with a meditation by Mrs. Preston L. Myers, leader for the evening. The Christmas story was told in Scripture verses read by Mrs. Rhoades and carols sung by the group.

Mrs. Myers presented the topic "No Room for Him." The magazine quiz and missionary benediction followed by the group. Mrs. Oliver Erb was introduced as a guest.

Mrs. William C. Karns, retiring president, conducted the business period. Reports were heard from Mrs. Stately, secretary, and Mrs. George Trump, acting treasurer. Mrs. Raymond Reinman was appointed to be leader for the next

TEXTILE UNION SUSPENDED BY AFL-CIO GROUP

By NORMAN WALKER

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Delegates gathered today for opening sessions of the AFL-CIO convention with five unions—including the giant Teamsters Union—facing expulsion moves on corruption charges. One of the unions, the United Textile Workers, was suspended last night.

George Meany, federation president, said in advance of the sessions that the Teamsters could escape expulsion only if James R. Hoffa, the union's president-elect, should quit and let AFL-CIO representatives monitor the union's affairs.

This appeared to be little change from the position the AFL-CIO high command has taken heretofore, but seemed to open the door a bit for Hoffa to step aside from the Teamsters presidency and still retain some office, such as his leadership of the Central States Teamsters.

Oppose Teamsters

Meany declined to elaborate, and Hoffa was reported to have meeting on Tuesday, January 7, at the home of Mrs. Harry W. Badders, Lumber St., following the community preaching mission service. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer in unison, and refreshments were served by Mrs. George Cool and Mrs. Alvin J. Groff.

Serious Problems Before Churchmen

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A widely representative council of American Christians today searched their sacred heritage, seeking to draw from it the guidance to cope with problems of racial relations and "the space age."

Proposed resolutions on these, and other contemporary issues, were up for action at the Triennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.

The Assembly, representing 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 37½ million members, also was expected to elect the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, a Baptist pastor of St. Louis, as Council president, to serve the next three years.

appeared determined to push convention expulsion action against the Teamsters, Bakery, Laundry, Distillery and Textile Workers unions. They comprise about 1,800,000 of the AFL-CIO's 15 million members.

Meany announced that the AFL-CIO Executive Council had suspended the textile group and voted to push for expulsion of both the UTW and Distillery Workers because both had failed, he said, to carry out in good faith reform programs they had pledged.

DEMOCRATS ASK TIGHTENING OF MILITARY BELT

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Influential Democrats called today for military belt tightening to help provide added missile funds within the balanced budget President Eisenhower hopes to maintain.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate's Republican leader, told reporters after a daylong White House legislative conference that Eisenhower and GOP congressional chieftains are "all very hopeful there will be a balanced budget."

To attain that objective in the face of world conditions and defense needs, Knowland said, he expects present rates of corporation and excise taxes to be continued. The higher rates, in effect on a year-to-year basis since the Korean War started, expire next June unless Congress renews them.

Near $71 Billion
Knowland said no over-all spending figure had been arrived at for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, but another conferee said the new budget is likely to be very close to the $71,800,000,000 estimated outlays for this year. This original estimate has since been raised to 72 billions.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he approves of the administration's budget - balancing objective. To help meet the additional two billion dollars in missile and other defense outlays forecast by administration leaders, Russell said some less essential military spending is going to have to be cut.

SAYS UMW WILL BACK LEADER AND DILWORTH

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the Independent United Mine workers Union headed by John L. Lewis, says the UMW probably would support a Democratic ticket in Pennsylvania next year headed by Gov. Leader for U. S. senator and Richardson Dilworth for governor.

The Philadelphia Inquirer in a story in this morning's edition said Lewis at a Nov. 21 meeting in Washington had agreed to support the Leader-Dilworth ticket if it materializes.

Dilworth, defeated for governor by Republican John Fine in 1950, is now mayor of Philadelphia. Kennedy, a Democrat who once served as the state's lieutenant governor, said the UMW can't endorse any political candidate until a meeting of the state's seven district presidents is held—and there hasn't been any such meeting, he added.

However, Kennedy admitted that politics had been discussed at the Washington meeting and pointed out that if Leader and Dilworth were nominated by the Democrats he believes the UMW would endorse the ticket.

Premier Gets 5th Vote Of Confidence

PARIS (AP) — Premier Felix Gaillard today won a fifth confidence vote from Parliament on his demand for a special economic powers bill but there was danger his Socialist ministers might bring down the Cabinet by resigning later in the day.

The official vote was announced as 233-187, on second reading of the economic powers bill first approved by the Assembly Nov. 19. Only 410 of nearly 600 deputies were present and the opposition came mainly from the Communists and the rightist Poujadists.

Gaillard told friends he would certainly quit if the Socialists carry out their threat. That would plunge France into still another government crisis exactly one month after the last one ended.

Have New Test For Faulty Functions

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A new type of "Achilles tendon" test for diagnosing faulty functions of the thyroid gland was described today to the American Medical Assn.

It involves a new electromagnetic technique for measuring the speed of the reflex resulting from tapping the Achilles tendon with a rubber hammer. The tendon is the tough sinew that leads from the back of the leg to the heel.

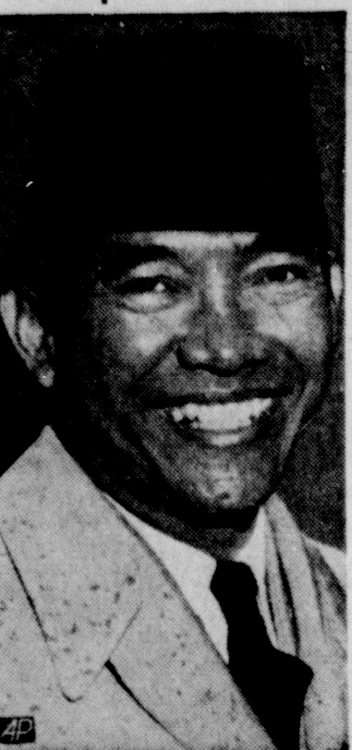

Dr. Jack A. Adelman, San Antonio, Tex., described the device developed by Maj. John D. Lawson, of Brooke Army Hospital.

HUNTERS NEED CHECKUP

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania hunters should have medical checkups before taking to the woodlands, says Dr. Charles J. Wilbur Jr., state health secretary. Seven hunters died of heart attacks Monday, the opening day of the 1957 deer season. Dr. Wilbur said every hunter, regardless of age, should have a checkup.

The nine planets in the solar system are: Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto.

FBI HUNTS FOR MISSING GIRL

SYCAMORE, Ill. (AP) — The communitywide search for a missing 7-year-old girl continued today as the FBI joined the hunt and police expressed belief evidence indicated a kidnapping or sex crime.

Police said they had found no clues in the search for the child, Maria Ridolph, who was reported missing early Tuesday night while playing near her home.

FBI agents declined to comment on the case but reportedly they questioned operators of filling stations, merchants and teenagers in Sycamore and nearby communities.

Hundreds of volunteers in this northern Illinois city of 7,000 aided authorities in hunting for the little dark-haired girl. Airplanes and two-way radio cars also have been pressed into the search.

Both Police Chief William Hindenburg and Sheriff Alfred Diesz said it appeared almost certain Maria was kidnapped. Her mother Frances said she believed her daughter, who was last seen in company with a strange man about 24 years old, is dead.

INJURED DRIVER IS KEY WITNESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A truck driver who survived a shot from ambush was called as a key witness today in a probe of alleged Teamsters Union gun squad violence in six states.

As the Senate Rackets Committee opened a new series of hearings, counsel Robert F. Kennedy confirmed that Ray Byrd of Batavia, Ohio, has been subpoenaed. Kennedy said Byrd was called to tell how he was shot in the back in August 1956 near LaFollette, Tenn., when gunmen ambushed his truck. Police never have solved the shooting, Kennedy added.

Kennedy said the committee is launching an inquiry into activities of what he termed "a gun squad drawn from some Teamster locals in Tennessee."

Much of the investigation will deal with violence in that state, Kennedy said, but it also will study reports of violence in Ohio, Kentucky, Georgia, Florida and Mississippi against truckers operating in those states.

Kennedy said other first-day witnesses include J. R. Pemberton, Clinton, Tenn., an executive of the Pemberton Truck Lines which employed Byrd, and Paul Andrews, an official of the B. & S. Motor Lines of Nashville, Tenn.

UNION MERGER GETS NEW LIFE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Unmerged state and local AFL and CIO bodies had a new lease on life today. The AFL-CIO Executive Council extended today's deadline for merger without setting a date for terminating the grace period.

AFL-CIO President George

Meany said further efforts will be made to bring the unmerged groups together and charters will be revoked only when a situation becomes "hopeless."

Unmerged bodies have been denied representation at the AFL-CIO convention opening today. Under the AFL-CIO constitution, state and local bodies had until today to merge or the AFL-CIO could lift their charters and set down merger convention rules.

Thirty-three states and 169 local central bodies have merged thus far. Most of the 15 unmerged states are in industrial areas.

ISRAELI CONVOY CROSSES JORDAN WITH GASOLINE

JERUSALEM (AP) — The first Israeli convoy to Mt. Scopus in two weeks crossed Jordanian territory today carrying 14 barrels of gasoline and other supplies.

Jordan stopped convoys to the demilitarized Israeli enclave last month with a claim that gasoline constituted military cargo. The Israelis said it was necessary fuel. The supply run started again today under an agreement worked out by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

U.N. observers in the presence of Jordanian officers checked the food, gasoline and other supplies in the trucks before they set out. The convoy carried 45 policemen plus a number of civilian caretakers.

Inspect Some Tins
At a Jordanian demand, a number of meat and biscuit tins were opened for inspection. Police kit-bags were also inspected.

In the usual pattern for convoys over the last eight years, an armed Jordanian rode with each armored bus in the procession. One U.N. observer sat next to each Israeli truck driver. Leading the way were several U.N. jeeps and an Arab Legion jeep.

A Jordanian army officer said 15 persons, including four women, were inside an armored car. They were going as visitors for the day, the officer said.

Hammarskjöld flew to Damascus for a 24-hour visit. He will talk with Syrian officials about Syrian-Israeli border tensions before passing through Beirut Friday on his way back to U. N. headquarters in New York.

Joe Giardello hopes to engage in some west coast fights next summer so that he can spend some time rooting for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

INCREASE MILK PRICES DEC. 16

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Milk Control Commission today ordered milk prices in four eastern Pennsylvania areas increased by 1 to 1½ cents a quart, effective Dec. 16.

Milk sold at retail in the York, Harrisburg and Lancaster milk marketing areas will jump 1½ cents a quart. A cent a quart boost was approved for the Lehigh Valley area.

The increases approximate those approved last week for three western Pennsylvania areas — Pittsburgh, Erie and Johnstown-Altoona—to go into effect on the same date.

to dairy farmers will increase proportionately. The commission said last summer's drought boosted farmers' production costs. Dealers have had to pay more for labor, it added.

All six areas will be authorized for the first time to sell milk in containers of one-third of a quart at a minimum retail price of 10.3 cents.

The commission will post the new prices for Lancaster, York, Harrisburg and Lehigh Valley next Monday. Chairman J. K. Mahood is ill but he is expected back by Monday to sign the orders officially.

SELECT FOUR MISSILE SITES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four East Coast Air Force bases have been selected for construction of the first launching sites for the Bomarc, the nation's newest missile designed to knock down enemy bombers.

The Air Force reportedly feels about 15 such sites would provide antiaircraft coverage for the East and West coasts and the nation's northern boundary. The Bomarc can cover a wide area and travels faster than sound.

However, although it is designed to intercept enemy bombers as far away as 300 miles and as high up as nearly 12 miles, the Bomarc would not be effective against ballistic missiles.

Plans to build the first Bomarc launching sites were announced last night by the Air Force. It said it had signed contracts totaling 46 million dollars for work at Dow Air Force Base, Maine; McGuire Air Force Base, N.J.; Otis Air Force Base, Mass.; and Suffolk County Air Force Base, Long Island, N.Y.

In another defense development it was learned that U.S. scientists are working on development of midjet H-bombs for battlefield use. The main objective would be to reduce radioactivity fall-out.

Many Santas Will Choose Picture Books For Gifts

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

Long before a child can read he will love books. If he lives in a home where everyone reads, he is a lot more likely to grow up with a love of good reading than if he never sees an adult crack a book.

Let's begin with picture books and start a library, that will grow as he grows.

A good picture book must have lovely illustrations, beautiful format and an amusing story. The pictures that appeal to the young child are clear and bright with the details of life that are familiar. The pictures themselves must tell the story. The story needs to be simple and told with not much text. It is not necessary that the words themselves be easy to read.

Steps To Reading
A picture book is not intended as a first reader, but starts the youngster on the way toward being a reader by giving him a love of books. After the story has been read to him over and over, you will see him pick up the book and "read" the story. He knows every word, but he reads the pictures, not the little black marks. He learns the sound of big strong words that go with the pictures — words he couldn't "read" for years — but he loves them, and his vocabulary grows. He may amaze you.

Like five-year-old Chris, who took his turn at a guessing game when the whole family was in the car: "I'm thinking of an amphibian that's green," he said.

Each child is different from every other child, but there are picture books that are not a toy the little child enjoys all by himself. Books need to be shared. Mother or Daddy should look at the book with Molly, read her the story as the chubby finger points out the familiar details in the pictures. Another time Molly will bring the book over to Mother, struggle up next to her and open up the bright pages. If Mother makes a single mistake in reading the text, Molly is very likely to correct her. Molly already knows exactly how it should go.

Children do not read a book through once and then put it aside. They want it read over and over and over again. A good book becomes a cherished possession.

How To Choose
Sometimes grownups don't know how to buy books for little children. Mothers and fathers know the child's likes better than grandparents, aunts, uncles and miscellaneous friends, but even parents are often uneasy about what's good for the child.

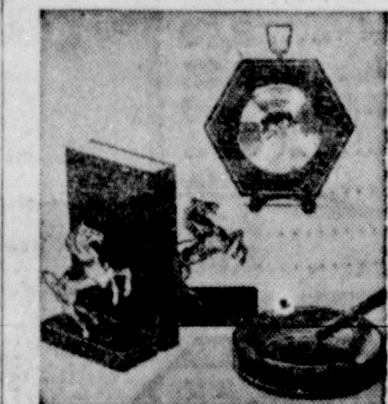

Remember first books are for fun. If there is any deep down

PORTABLE RADIOS RATE top-most for Yule giving, and they are available in a wide diversity of models.

HANDSOMELY MASCULINE are these useful gifts: solid brass book-ends, black leather dictionary, tooled leather barometer, black tooled leather and glass ash tray.

objective it is to show the little child that pleasure lies between the covers of a book. Don't buy books because they teach something. Books do teach, of course, but the teaching is secondary to the joy of the story itself.

Some of the books we adults read as children are still good, but don't forget that many new ones and good ones are being written every year. Children's books are reviewed in the newspapers—usually the Sunday editions and often in women's magazines.

Your best bet is to go to a good book store and spend some time looking over their selection of picture books. If you doubt your ability to pick out something, especially if you're a maiden aunt or a rich uncle, drop in at the library and have a chat with the librarian of the Children's Room. She knows what books children enjoy.

Theirs Not To Reason Why; Theirs But To Wrap And Tie

By HUGH MULLIGAN
Newsfeatures Writer

Before the last drop of cheer drains from the wassail bowl, won't someone please propose a toast to those unsung super-numeraries of the holiday season: the Christmas help.

Through thick and thin, cash and credit, children lost and parents found, address unknown and C.O.D., bargain and exchange, they've managed somehow to move the mighty mass of Santa's cargo out of the warehouse, under the tree.

Customers abuse them, knowing their transitory status. The regular crew shuns them, like reservists on a summer cruise. Floor walkers and supervisors browbeat them. Small children, most of all, sense their disciplinary inadequacies and mark them fair game for harassment.

AP Newsfeatures Writer
But when the rush is over, when the commissions and bonuses have been handed out to the permanent staff, when the Old Man makes their inevitable Christmas speech, they'll be left standing alone and unwanted, like a broken ornament fallen from the tree.

a carol, send them a card or even wish them a Merry Christmas? How could there ever be a Christmas without them? Who would wrap the gifts, tote that mail, drive the trucks and man the cash registers?

Who would push the ludicrous line of Christmas ties, hold back the savage attackers at the bargain counter, get the Madison Ave. types into their trench coats by Christmas?

Trim Tree, Deck Posts
Who could be enlisted, on such short notice, to trim the town tree, bough deck the lamp posts in the business district, tinkle the charity bell or laugh like an idiot for eight hours a day so some unknown and hitherto unseen child can carry his belief in Santa Claus into another year?

None but the Christmas help. True, there may have been a few hapless souls among them who brought dishonor on the regiment, but by and large they were a marvelous lot.

Perhaps one over-zealous Santa did besmirch his bearded dignity and wind up in court with tottering step and suspicious breath.

Dumped Mail In Sewer
Perhaps one part-time postal carrier, weary unto death of barking dogs, unreadable addresses and penny postage dues, had the unfeeling temerity to dump a bag of Yuletide mail down a sewer and return the remainder of his shift recumbent under a tavern table.

Maybe one toy train salesman, woe'llily weary of saying "don't touch please" and constantly putting cars back on the track, was moved to end it all with management by deliberately dispatching a fast freight down a track already occupied by the Panama Limited.

Perhaps somewhere in this favored Christmas land, one neophyte clerk dared to find the customer wrong, trample on the floor walker's carnation or boldly return the fire when somebody's darling advanced on him with a water pistol.

Denizens Of Payrolls
But what are these among so many dedicated denizens of the December payrolls?

Won't someone please find it in his heart at this happy time of the year to wish the best and many more to all those unnamed heroes who signed up for a short hitch in Santa's part-time army?

If there is none, then please allow me:

Before the last drop
Drains from the cup
Please allow me
To humbly stand up
And taking my glass

AMONG MOST POPULAR OF word games is Jotto which requires no setting up of tables. Good gift for the playful.

Hold it aloft
In honor of those
Who'll soon be laid off.

From each permanent employee
Each walker of floors,
From each of the bosses
With names on their doors,
From each sassy shopper
Each mischievous whelp
We bid "Merry Christmas"
To all Christmas help.

How Much Can You Spend On Monthly Payment Plans?

By OTTO C. LORENZ
Associate Editor
The AMERICAN BANKER

Installment buying has made it possible for every family to have the appliances it needs—when it needs them.

There is little reason to wait until all the cash is available before buying the appliances you need, because with a new baby in the house, for example, certain appliances are necessary—and right away. A washer and a dryer, it is known, are invaluable for a new mother who is taking on the additional work of a baby and needs all the extra time and energy she can get.

She can have those appliances now by purchasing on the installment plan. Then she can have the use of the work-saving servants when she needs their help the most.

If you're wondering how installment buying affects the saving habit, a special study of consumer installment credit made at President Eisenhower's request for the Federal Reserve Board reports that: "Consumers' desire to save and the importance they attached to the accumulation of savings were not impaired by their extensive use of installment buying."

Even if you have cash on hand, there may still be good reason to buy on installment. For, if you retain your full savings and go into debt to buy an appliance, the pressure of paying the installments will prevent the frittering away of income on unnecessary items.

There is no formula for determining how much of a family's income can be spent on monthly payment plans. However, two years ago a family with two children and $5,000 annual income spent about $48 a month on monthly payment plans. This figure is to be about 12.7 per cent of the take home pay.

But the amount that can be spent each month is an individual family matter, and should be figured out with care. For instance some families in that same income bracket were committed to as much as $75 a month on monthly payments for cars, refrigerators, washing machines, household appliances and home improvements.

Met Payments Promptly
Checking revealed that they met their payments promptly and didn't get into trouble — chiefly because some one made the food and clothing dollars do a really fine job.

EASY TO SEW FOR CHRISTMAS

By DOROTHY ROE
Associate Press Women's Editor

Nobody is busier at Christmas time than the woman who sews, for department stores everywhere are crammed with special Christmas fabrics that fairly cry out to be stitched into holiday finery.

This year you'll find fabrics that reflect the Christmas spirit in gay prints featuring jingle bells, holly wreaths, ribbons and reindeer mostly in festive traditional red, green and white. Women are buying these fabrics to make into all sorts of gifts and household accessories. And since the new fabrics are colorful and sanforized against shrinkage, they know the and less expensive meats that "home ec" classes had taught would go a long way and still keep everybody happy. Washing machines and refrigerators had been bought and paid for on the installment plan long ago — and what a saving in laundry bills and food conservation that was, now that the machines were fully paid for!

Economists say that payments on installment debt amounted to 12.7% of disposable income in 1955.

articles they make can be tossed in the washing machine time after time, and come up smiling.

Frivolous Xmas Nightie
One bright idea for a young girl is a frivolous Christmas nightie made from a fabric printed with colorful Christmas-tree balls. Local sewing center experts suggest one of the new shorty gowns with frilly bloomers to match. Since this is a border print, it is most effective to follow the scalloped line of the design at the hemline of a hem. Red cording accents the little-girl yoke, and the border is used again on the matching panties. By using a pattern printed with inch-rulers for easy alteration, you can achieve just the right length without interfering with the placement of the border.

Another gay Christmas idea is to make upside-down Christmas trees from green felt, to hang up instead of the usual Christmas stockings. These may be decorated gaily with sequins and hung on the mantel, or placed over a bottle for a Christmas table centerpiece.

With gay Christmas fabrics and a little time at the sewing machine, you can make permanent Christmas accessories, to be brought out year after year, as the start of a family tradition.

Laundry Is No Problem For Smart Santa Claus

So your wife has just gone out to do some Christmas shopping and she left you with family wash? That's no problem at all.

Here are a few tips on doing the laundry the way your wife does it. First, sort the laundry into piles of white, colored and man-made fiber garments (your Dacron slacks, for instance). The manufacturer's label should tell you the construction of the garment.

Set aside the clothing that have dark colors that are apt to fade. Give these a separate wash, for they might fade or spot other garments. Brush the sand, grass and dirt that may have accumulated out of the trouser pockets and cuffs, and apply some detergent directly to all badly soiled or greasy stained areas. Close the zippers on all the clothes.

First Things First
Wash the white clothes first, and keep the water hot. White clothes of natural fibers can stand the hottest water.

For bleaching, follow directions on the package to obtain the proper amount. Add the bleach to the water and allow the machine to agitate for a full minute.

Use a measuring cup and follow the directions on the box or bottle when adding detergent. Remember that too many suds cut down the washing action.

When loading the machine, place about nine pounds of clothes in the machine (if the washer is standard size), or load the machine until the loosely folded clothes come within two inches of the tip of the agitator basket.

Large pieces should be mixed with smaller items, rather than be washed together.

After the white things are washed, the light colored items have their turn. If your machine is equipped with a suds-saving device you can use the same water or if fresh water is drawn, turn the water temperature down to "warm."

The next load will contain more heavily soiled cottons. Use clean, hot water.

ANIMALS ARE KING SIZE IN YULE TOYLAND

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Toyland in the age of Sputnik is divided into two camps.

There are the toy mechanical marvels of the atomic era, geared to provide play-conditioning for future space pilots, and then there are old-fashioned cuddly toys designed to give fun and comfort to small fry facing the frightening vista of a world often confusing even to grown-ups.

More popular than ever before, for instance, are king-size stuffed animals of all species—the kind of toy meant to be cuddled and taken to bed by small boys and girls. There are dogs and cats, lions and tigers, elephants and kangaroos—practically all the members of the animal kingdom, done with cheerfully beguiling expressions in soft fake fur.

Avid Collectors

Popularity of Toyland's zoo parade isn't limited to the nursery set, either, as girls of high school and college age throughout the country have become avid collectors of stuffed animals, using them to decorate their rooms and to substitute for pillows on their beds.

There are play versions of all the latest electronic marvels for the mechanically-minded youngster, and there also are all the old traditional favorites, such as ABC blocks, spinning tops, dolls and doll houses, push-and-pull toys and toy models of the complete range of housekeeping equipment, from vacuum cleaners to electric stoves.

There is strong emphasis on career toys among members of the Toy Guidance Council, an organization which specializes providing the right toy for the right age, play-testing new toys before they are put in the market.

Toys Develop Interest

In this category are toys designed to develop interest and skills in practically all adult trades and professions, from bridge-building to stenography. Building kits this year come in varieties, from steel girders to plastic blocks and panels with which Junior can build a skyscraper.

There are guided missile and satellite toys, to keep pace with the space adventures of the International Geophysical Year, and there are many versions of national defense toys, many of which operate electronically.

There are home decorator kits for little girls, costume jewelry kits, carpentry tools and even do-it-yourself home repair kits.

Musical Tops

For the future artists there are crayon, water color, finger painting and even oil painting sets. Young musicians can have every known kind of musical toy, from saxophone to harp, xylophone to piano.

There are educational toys of all kinds, including one featuring six kits combining play activities with study training. Included are toys to develop manual dexterity, other to help Johnny with his numbers, others to teach children to tell time and so on.

Santa's toy pack hits the billion-dollar mark this year, and in it there should be a super-toy for every child.

IT'LL PAY YOU TO START XMAS SHOPPING NOW

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

Christmas has a way of pouncing out of the fall. It always seems to come before you are ready. When you wake up to the fact that the big day is just around the corner there is a mad dash to get everything ready. Tempers are likely to snap during mad dashes.

This year get going early and make some leisurely preparations with the children. When you start early you'll have time to talk to the children about what Christmas means. It's a wonderful season and children need to be part of all of it—not just receivers of gifts.

About the first of December begin to plan your Christmas decorations. It is of course too early to set up a tree, but you could plan a crèche or nativity scene. Talk about the Christmas story and let the children make animals and figures, trees and houses to represent the nativity. As you work up a little scene your children begin to feel the spirit of Him Whose birthday we celebrate. Perhaps you want to buy a few figures, but don't buy too many. A homemade scene with figures moulded out of clay, with pine cones for trees, will mean more to the children. Your homemade Story of Christ will be worked over and played with for weeks before Christmas.

Yule Decorations

Plan some other decorations for the house and put them up as the children work on them. Try to add a few new items everyday or so.

Make a big batch of Christmas cookies. Cut them in interesting shapes and decorate them with bright colored sugar. These can be stored until needed, and make wonderful gifts for visiting children during the Christmas week, or even before. Perhaps some of the children would like to send a fancy decorated cookie as a Christmas card to a special friend.

Christmas Cards

Christmas cards can be planned well before Christmas. As much as you can, interest the children in making their own cards. If you have kept those that were sent to you last year many of them will supply pictures which the children can cut out and paste on cards or colored paper.

When children buy their cards let them make their own selections, deciding which card goes to which person. Let them sign their own names and stamp the envelopes.

Keep the children interested in doing things for Christmas, doing things for the family, for their friends and taking part in community plans. Their interest in others helps to keep down the pitch of excitement in what is being done for them and it also helps to give them a real feeling of love and concern for others. This, much more than receiving, is what we want our youngsters to feel about Christmas.

Biggest daily double payoff in Pimlico's history came Dec. 1, 1955, when Joymaker and Advice combined for a $5,932.20 reward. Benjie Sorensen rode both winners.

50-75 WILL BE ADMITTED TO MENTAL SCHOOL

HARRISBURG (AP)—Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro said Wednesday 50 to 75 children will be admitted at the outset when a new 1,200 patient dormitory is opened Dec. 10 at the Selinsgrove State School for Mentally Retarded Children.

The dormitory, constructed by the General State Authority as part of a 10-million dollar over improvement program at the institution, would have an eventual capacity of 1,198 boys and girls.

Asked how this expansion program ties in with budget economies imposed by the 1957 legislature, Shapiro said:

"There will be 50 to 75 children admitted as part of the dedication ceremony. I do not know how many additional ones will be admitted."

Stagger Admissions
The money allowed for this biennium, $5,900,000, is more than we got last year and we will be able to admit some patients on a staggered basis every month."

The welfare secretary said that the number of patients to be handled in the new dormitory will be based on costs as they develop.

"We will govern ourselves according to the budget," he added.

The first group of children entering the dormitory are presently housed in other overcrowded facilities at Selinsgrove.

The present capacity of Selinsgrove is 1,000 but its present population is 1,064.

Opening of the new dormitory will increase the institution's capacity to 2,188.

A department spokesman explained that the 1957 Legislature wrote into the Welfare Department appropriation a prohibition against transferring funds from one mental institution to another. Because of that, the spokesman said, a problem will arise on moving children from the Pennhurst and Polk State Schools to the Selinsgrove facility.

Gov. Leader and Philip Elkin, president of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children, will speak at the Dec. 10 dedication.

SANTA SET FOR OUTER SPACE

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Santa, being an old space pilot himself, is all set to conquer interplanetary flight by Christmas.

His 1957 pack already was well stocked with electronic guided missiles and rocket launchers when Sputnik invaded the sky, touching off a new rush of satellite-inspired playthings which are pouring off assembly lines of Toyland to keep junior space men up to date.

Science takes the spotlight in Toyland as elsewhere this Christmas, as children take in stride the imminence of space travel and confidently expect toys in step with the times.

"This is a trend that has been evident for several years," says Melvin Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council. "Radar, atomic energy and electronics have inspired a huge volume of playthings."

Some new thrills that will keep small fry abreast of the headlines this Christmas include a sky sweeper truck with a miniature Nike rocket launcher and a ro-

Such up-to-the-minute names as "super satellite station" and "radar rocket" keep Toyland in the groove, as do such novelties as a flying "sonic" rocket ship powered by a high-pitched whistle, satellite balloons, ray guns and missile trackers.

On the advice of her policeman son, she asked the next caller that number he was trying to get. It was one digit removed from hers. Police checked the number and went to the address listed for it. Officers said they found 21 numbers slips in the man's house. He was charged with possession of gambling paraphernalia.

There are prefabricated girders and panels for junior builders, miniature telephones and tape recorders that really work, intercom telephones and play-size power drills. And for girls there are high fashion dolls and miniature kitchens that rival Mom's in modern appliances.

CHAPTER TWO

THE COWARDLY PRINCE

The King of Mitzenpoo named his son Richard. He was so proud of his child he said that he would be the finest prince in the land the bravest and wisest and strongest. When he became king no other kingdom would dare to attack them and Mitzenpoo would be peaceful for another 100 years.

But, alas — it was not long before the king found that Richard was not the prince he had hoped for.

As a baby, Richard cried all the time. He awoke crying in the night — he was afraid of the dark. He cried when his father held him — he was afraid of his whiskers. He cried when the nurse sang to him — her voice was loud and frightened him.

"Why always the tears?" complained the king. "Is he ill?"

"I should say not!" laughed the boy's nurse. "He is the healthiest child I've ever seen. And strong! Why we cannot keep him in rattles. His tiny fingers crush every toy we give him."

"Why then, is he always afraid?" asked the king.

"He will outgrow it," said the nurse.

But the boy didn't outgrow it.

When he was seven he lost a playmate's football when he gave it a single kick and it sailed high in the air and away over the palace wall.

The playmate turned on Richard and raised his fists in anger.

"I'll hit you for that!" he cried.

"You might ask Santa," laughed the gardener.

Richard turned white and ran behind his father.

"You're a prince!" cried the king. "Go out and fight for yourself."

But when the king stepped aside Richard sat on the ground and cried.

When he was eleven the king gave Richard a red and gold uniform and said that henceforth he would be a captain in the Guard. But Richard got sick in his stomach when a sword was placed in his hands. He threw it away with such force that it stuck in the palace wall and it took three men to pull it out.

To make matters worse the king feared that the prince was dim-witted as well as cowardly. Not only did he do poorly in his lessons but he did not understand what it means to be a prince and the future king of Mitzenpoo.

The king said, "My son, I am old. You will soon be king. There are many enemies in the land. How will you protect Mitzenpoo when I am gone?"

"I will leave it to the Guard," said Richard.

"But you must lead them," protested the king. "And you must guide our people."

Richard hung his head. "I am afraid of people," he mumbled.

The king walked away in sorrow.

HERE'S HOW TO FLATTER FUTURE GLAMOR GIRL

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor Christmas gifts treasured by a little girl are likely to be the ones that make her feel grown up. And why not? She yearns to be a big girl, like Sis or Mom, and these gifts reflect her growing maturity.

Anything from a muff to a bottle of fragrance may give a small child that feeling of femininity. She may stare for hours into a new hand mirror, brush her hair endlessly with her spanking clean hairbrush, dunk her hands in the hand lotion with gleeful exuberance, and this glamor reveling is not in vain. Every step of the row, Richard went into the garden and leaned against a holly tree.

"Look out!" said the gardener who was mean tempered and did not like Richard. "You're breaking my holly tree!"

Indeed, as Richard leaned lightly against the tree his strength was such that it caused the tree to break.

"Ah," sighed the prince. "Why am I such a sorrow to my father?"

"Because," said the mean gardener, "you've no brains and you're cowardly, too, it's said by all."

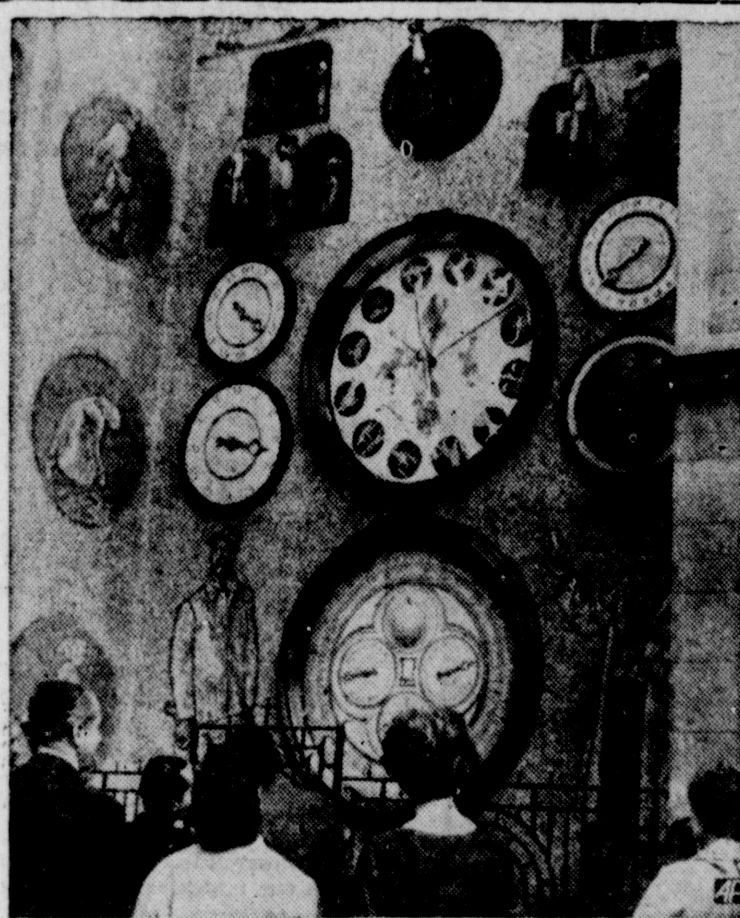

"But I am what I am," replied Richard. "How can I change?"

"You might ask Santa Claus," said the gardener jokingly. "Might he'd put some courage and brains in your Christmas stocking."

Then the gardener went off laughing hard to think he'd hurt the boy. But Richard wasn't hurt.

"Perhaps that's the thing for me to do," he thought. "Yes, I shall find Santa Claus and ask him for help."

way a little girl learns fastidiousness that counts toward that final degree of Mistress of Charm.

There are many ways to encourage even the routine grooming chores. Into her stocking, for instance, could go a sequin decorated toothbrush, easy to decorate yourself with glitter dust and adhesive. This treatment works on the hairbrush handle, also. Trim a soap package with a gay artificial flower. Paint a pretty pattern on the shoe brush.

Many a father will decree gifts of beauty to a small child, feeling that these fragrant, glittering objects are likely to make his little girl vain. But 'taint so. They must improve relations with the vanity table and wash basin.

Bubble bath never kept any youngster from the bath tub, a set of manicure implements can't help but encourage clean fingernails. If a youngster finds these glamor items in her stocking, she'll

HELPFUL HINTS FOR FAMISHED MEN WHO HUNT

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Does your freezer boast game? As we drove through Connecticut this fall, cars and station wagons whizzed past us loaded with deer. Judging from this sampling, the hands that rock the cradles are busy cooking venison.

Although our own experience with the meat has been limited, we have learned a few things emphasized by Audrey Alley Gorton in her recently published "The Venison Book." One is that proper cooking will do more for the meat than the marinades usually prescribed. Mrs. Gorton recommends that choice cuts such as chops, steaks and roasts be treated exactly as you would handle similar fine beef cuts; and that "long, slow cooking, or pressure-pan cooking, will usually take care of the less choice cuts of meat."

Flavor From Fat

Of utmost importance is Mrs. Gorton's discovery that the gamey flavor of venison comes from the fat. She says, "If the fat is removed when the meat is prepared for freezing or cooking, and strips of bacon or lardons substituted when the meat is cooked, there will be no need to drown the venison in a witch's brew." Let marinades take over when they're due — in sauerbraten, made with venison, for instance.

One of Mrs. Gorton's recipes is for an English-style Venison and Kidney Pie, worth trying because England has always been noted for its game cookery.

But don't get the idea that Mrs. Gorton is concerned with recipes alone; she has practical advice to offer on freezer packaging, pressure canning and curing with salt and smoke. Her book also takes up dressing the kill skinning and cutting up — these gory details supplied by a colleague of the author's at Marlboro College, Frederick J. Turner, professor of forestry.

Venison And Kidney Pie

Ingredients: 1 pound stewing steak (cut in 1½-inch cubes), 1 beef kidney or 8 lamb kidneys, 3 tablespoons fat (beef suet may be used), 3 medium-sized onions (peeled and sliced), salt and pepper, boiling water or stock, piecrust, 1 egg yolk.

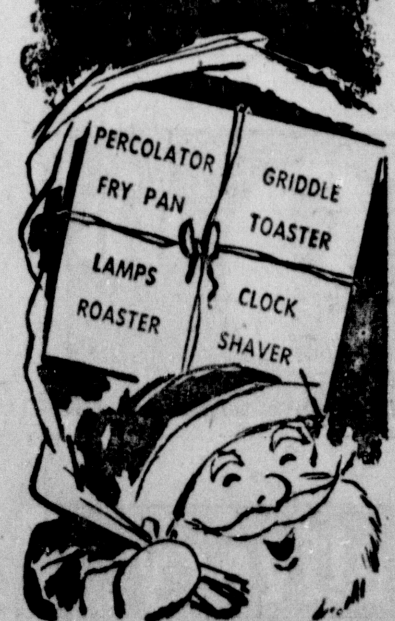

Method: Prepare the kidneys by removing the membrane and cutting out the white part. Slice the beef kidney or halve the lamb kidneys. Roll steak and kidney pieces in flour, pressing the flour into the meat. Melt the fat in a skillet and brown the pieces of meat. Put the meat and onions into a fairly deep fireproof dish (the dish should be about ¾ full). Put the boiling water or stock into the skillet to take up all the gravy and cover the meat in the dish with this mixture. Put on the lid and bake in a medium oven (350 degrees) for at least 1 hour — or until the meat is tender and the gravy thick. Add salt and pepper to

HERE'S BLONDE MAKES LIVING CLIPPING MEN

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Jewell Bennett is a vivacious blonde who likes to clip men—that is, all men except bald ones.

For Jewell is a lady barber.

Miss Bennett, who lathers and trims at the historic Maxwell House Hotel here, sees nothing odd in her choice of a vocation. But she snips away at discrimination against women in her profession.

"We can do as good a job as a man barber," she declares.

How did an attractive young girl from a nearby farming community happen to land in what is generally regarded as a masculine occupation?

"I've actually been barbering all my life," she says. "Ever since I can remember, I've been cutting hair, starting off practicing on my daddy and three brothers."

"When I decided to take up barbering, Dad thought I'd gone crazy," Miss Bennett remarks as she clips the curly black locks from one of her regular male customers.

She worked her way through night barber college as a manicurist, finishing in March, 1956. She works alongside several male barbers.

How do men react when faced with a lady barber?

"Unless a customer knows me," Jewell says laughingly, "he just automatically seems to shy away from my chair. They seem to hate to get in my chair when a male barber is idle."

Regulars Are Satisfied
"But my regular customers seem very satisfied," she adds. Fellow workers in the basement shop say Miss Bennett is too modest.

"Not a man could build up the trade she does," declared Carlene Holt, a red-headed manicurist. "Those men just like a woman's touch."

Henry Rucker, the shop manager, agrees: "There's not a barber in Nashville that has more customers than Miss Jewell. I'd hire another woman barber if I could get one."

"Another thing," adds Rucker, "a man can't seem to say no to a lady when she suggests some of the extras, like special shampoos or treatments. The customer who's say okay to Miss Jewell would turn down the male barber."

Prefers Men Customers

Miss Bennett says she never cuts women's hair.

"I just prefer to wait on men. They're easier to please."

Barbers are noted as great talkers and she is no exception. While trimming a customer's hair, she carries on a running conversation "in whatever he's interested in." She particularly likes to talk about hunting and fishing—her two favorite off-duty sports.

Although she's fond of "my regulars," as she calls them, Miss Bennett says she never expects to meet the man of her life in a barber shop.

Fixes Own Hair

Because of her profession, does she patronize a beauty parlor like many women? No indeed!

"I'm one of those cranky women. I fix my own hair," she says with a nod that sends her long blonde locks waving.

She doesn't regret her decision to enter a field usually considered reserved for men.

"I plan to keep on as long as I can stand up," Miss Bennett says. "Someday I'd like to own a barber shop of my own, with just women barbers, but I can't get enough women interested in learning the profession."

SCOUT ASSERTS COLLEGE BACKS LACK DEFENSE

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

The college football players who have been grabbing the headlines week after week will find things a bit different if they intend to head for the professional ranks. Take the word of Jack Lavelle who has been scouting the collegians almost 30 years.

"There are not as many qualified football players in college as people think," says Lavelle who scouts for the New York Giants, National Football League champions.

"Defensive backs are tough to find in college. It's most puzzling. The pros have two teams, the offensive platoon and the defensive platoon. In college these days a boy is expected to go both ways. When they turn pro their action is limited to one way.

"It takes a lot of college players to fill the rosters of 12 professional teams, especially when most of the pro teams go around five times in drafting collegians."

Lavelle, who played guard at 180 pounds for the 1925-26 Notre Dame teams, has scouted for his alma mater since 1928. In 1931 he scouted for Green Bay's Packers and in 1936 he took up scouting chores for the Giants.

Solved Bears' Weakness
Big Jack — he now scales 260 pounds — was instrumental last year in the Giants' 47-7 rampage over the Chicago Bears in the NFL championship game. The teams played a 17-17 tie earlier in the season. Lavelle dogged the footsteps of the Bears until he found a weakness — poor defense against passing. So the Giants won in a rout by passing. Now everybody passes against the Bears.

Some years Lavelle feels as though he's a Chicago native. That was the case last year; he saw so many games there. This year he's been a constant visitor to Detroit, having watched Cleveland's Browns there twice and San Francisco's 49ers against the Detroit Lions, not to mention a college game or two in the area.

What does Lavelle look for in a college player?

Needs Desire
"First you must pick on a college senior and find out if he has the desire to play professionally," says Lavelle.

"After that you look him over on offense and defense, how he fools his opponents and how they fool him. He must be able to run and he must be able to block and tackle."

As for scouting teams for the Giants, Lavelle looks for many things such as:

"What can you do to beat the enemy; where can you go?"

"How can you figure on controlling the game, or the enemy's passing attack."

"From the other club you get information as to what you might do. You try to figure where your team is similar to the one you're watching."

"You look for a defensive weakness in the secondary on pass plays, or for men to make moves too fast. The worst thing that can happen to a scout is to have the guy you scouted to get hurt. In that case you might just as well have been in the next town, like some of the seats a scout gets at some football parks."

Lavelle is as well known for his football scouting as for his after dinner speaking the year around. You might call him the poor man's Herman Hickman, who went from Tennessee football, to pro wrestling, to speaking, to coaching Yale and on to radio.

Former Referee
Lavelle used to referee football and basketball games. Now he speaks at various banquets from Lewiston, Maine, to San Antonio, Tex. Deep into the winter he is the starter for 10 West Point track meets a year and about four a year in Madison Square Garden.

His toughest assignment this year is the Cleveland Browns. They hardly ever allow a touchdown, it seems. But if they have a weakness it will take a well-versed football scout like Jack Lavelle to find it.

Wiley Figures In Braves' Plans

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Wichita's pitcher Carlton Wiley, the American Assn.'s first 20-game winner since 1954, was named the league's most valuable player of the 1957 campaign by sports writers. Wiley, a 26-year-old righthander, figures in the 1958 pitching plans of the world champion Milwaukee Braves.

Wiley won only five games and lost 10 in 1956. He is a native of Cherryfield, Maine. He is the fourth pitcher to win the American Assn. most valuable player designation. The others were Herb Score in 1954, Gene Conley in 1953 and Steve Gerkin in 1947.

"WINTER WARM" FARM PRIDE OF TED ATKINSON

WOODBURY, N. Y. (AP) — A carpenter was hammering away to make four more stalls in a former cock-fighting arena; a stablehand was fixing hay; farm manager Jake Schluter was showing people around; and the boss, Ted Atkinson, was wielding a five-pound sledge hammer to repair a split rail fence.

It was Sunday but there was work to be done on the farm and Jockey Atkinson, who had ridden winners in three straight races at Jamaica the day before, pitched in as though there was no tomorrow.

"There's always something to do and Sunday is the only day I can be around," said the 41-year-old Atkinson, who has been winning races since he was 21 and only a few years out of Canada. "I think someday I'll have one of the showplaces on Long Island, laurel around the quarter-mile jogging track. We're building four more stalls. The 35 we have are all filled."

Yearling Barn
"This is the yearling barn and our shed row where we'll have indoor jogging when it gets cold. We have yearlings we break, broodmares and horses that have been turned out as hospital cases. This is one of the confining pad-docks. It's small so as to limit a horse's exercise."

Atkinson, who recently ended 11 years of contract riding for the Greentree Stable of Ambassador John Hay (Jock) Whitney and Mrs. Charles S. Payson, calls his 23 acres Winter Warm Farm.

The inscription over our fire place says: "Give me, Great God, say I, a little farm, in summer cool and in winter warm."

Among Top Jockeys
Atkinson, who led the nation's jockeys in 1944 and 1946, paced the New York riders this year. Come January he will be back in Miami, where he has a winter home, to ride at Hialeah. Then he will return next March to ride in New York, and keep things humming at his farm on which Sandy Hatch once raised fighting roosters.

Atkinson has ridden some great horses like Tom Fool ("the best I ever rode"), Capot, Straight Face, Nashua and Bold Ruler to name a few.

He was unbeaten on Nashua, winning the Wood Memorial and Grey Lag, and the first three races Bold Ruler ran as a 2-year-old in 1956 were winning ones under Ted.

Nears 4,000 Winners
Atkinson probably will come close to 4,000 winners before he calls it quits. In mid-November he had more than 3,600 winners and had passed the $16 million figure in money won on some 22,000 mounts in 20 years.

"Retirement is not on my mind," said Atkinson. "I'll ride a few more years and maybe get better mounts now that I'm free lancing. These dogwoods were just transplanted. They'll be in bloom next May. We have all the equipment to run a horse farm. It'll be a showplace some day."

Winter Warm Farm, with its green pastures and sparkling white post and rail fences, is a show-place now.

RAINY GAMES BRING SHORTS
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — When it rains at a Dunbar High School football game, the players change to mud cleats and the cheerleaders change their entire uniform.

Introducing a kind of "two platoon" uniform idea, the girls change their black wool and white satin skirts for Bermuda shorts and tennis shoes in poor weather.

MCALISTER, Okla. (AP) — The Rev. Walter A. Hargraves keeps in trim by helping out the McAlester High School football team — he is a member of the chain gang that works up and down the sidelines during a game.

Fishermen Snare Burglary Loot

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Three fishermen came up with some odd catches.

Larry Freet, 13, of Springfield, went fishing and came home with 450 golf balls. He found them in Honey Creek near here. But he had to return them to the Troy operator of a golf driving range from which authorities said he golf balls had been siven.

And in Dayton, two fishermen also netted a big catch that same day. Ronald Apple, 21, and Dennis Seibert, 16, snared a tackle box containing about $1,100 in checks and $50 in coin from the Stillwater River. Authorities said the box and money were taken in a Dayton supermarket burglary in which the loss was reported at $4,300.
